QUARREL OVER TURN TO TREAT CAUSE OF MURDER

2 WORKMEN ARE FATALLY INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Fall Long Distance When Plank Laid Across Shaft Breaks

NEARLY EVERY BONE IN BODIES BROKEN

Employes Engaged on Large San Francisco House Are Killed

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. --Breaking beneath the combined weight of two men, a plank laid across the elevator shaft at the eighth floor of the Shields building, under course of construction, at Stockton and O'Farrell streets, split in two this morning, shortly after 9 o'clock and hurled John Henney and George Harrison, structural iron workers, living respectively at Point Lobos avenue and Broderick street and 1115 Brunswick street, down the entire eight floors, to the first story, with a crash through a temporary freight elevator, and landed on the cement floor of the basement

Shrieks For Help

The shrieks for help of both men when they first felt the board give beneath them had called the attention of their fellow workers and assistance was at hand the moment after the unfortunate men landed in the basement The ambulance was summoned from the Central Emergency hospital where they were immediately taken There Dr Rennel with the assistance of a corps of hospital stewards did all in their power to save the lives of the workmen but from latest reports both patients were still unconscious and little hope is held out for their recovery

Badly Injured

Henney who fell first down the deep shaft suffered a fracture of almost every bone in his body His chest was crushed to one-third its former size while his legs and arms were broken and it is feared that his skull is fractured It is also feared that internal injuries occurred but an operation at this time will not be performed

Harrison's fall was eased when he struck the jagged edge of the elevator floor made when Henney's body crashed through the wood His shirt caught on to a nail and for a fraction of a second he hung suspended in the air when his clothing ripped and he continued his fall to the basement. His skull is fractured and internal injuries are also feared

Both Are Married

It is the belief of the doctors that the unfortunate workingmen will succumb to his injuries in a few hours at the longest

Both men are married Henney being the father of three children and Harrison of five

The building is being completed under Contractor Herbert Powers The police have been informed of the accident and an investigation will be made in an attempt to fix the blame.

WILL HORTON F. PHIPPS AND NAT GOODWIN FIGHT DUEL OVER THEIR WIVES?

Zelie De Lussan Suggests Both Are Able Protectors and Can Defend the Honor of the Stage

Whether a distinguished terpsichorean artist now at the Orpheum dances divinely or like a grasshopper, or whether the fourth wife of a well-known comedian was only a "chorus girl" before she met the aforesaid comedian and then resolved herself into an actress, are questions which will probably never be settled to the satisfaction of the public Nevertheless, they were questions which were discussed last night in the musical and dramatic, and indeed, in all circles in which move cultured people on both sides of the bay

The delicious morsel was furnished by the story in THE TRIBUNE of last night to the effect that Mrs Nat Goodwin who is professionally known as Miss Edna Goodrich, and who is playing as a co-star with her celebrated husband, who, as a fun maker, is without a superior on the American stage, had said that Mrs Phipps, known on the Orpheum bills as La Valera, the wife of Horton Forrest Phipps, a business man of San Francisco, and who is now appearing in saltatorial acts at the theater referred to, danced like a grasshopper

The estimate of her ability in the art of Terpsichore expressed by Mrs Goodwin was conveyed to La Valera whereupon the latter delivered herself of several opinions which it seems she had previously cherished of the wife of Mr Goodwin

One of these opinions was in effect that Miss Goodrich's place was in the ranks of the chorus girl and not in those of the leading woman in the dramatic world Indeed La Valera thoughtfully but extremely politely ventured the professional opinion that if Edna Goodrich didn't know any more about dancing than she did about acting, and her remarks encouraged the supposition that she did not Miss Goodrich simply made herself ridiculous by her criticism

Exchange Notes

It is understood that notes were exchanged last night between the ladies in the dispute but the contents of the missives have not yet been disclosed Each of the ladies has a husband but it is not known whether or not the conflict of opinion will extend beyond the control of the disputants themselves

"Slummy" Savor?

In stage circles today one well known performer was profane enough to say that he thought the affair had a slummy savor

Still another in the same profession declared in perhaps the same spirit that it was a vulgar attempt at advertising

Mlle Zelie de Lussan who for several weeks by her naivete, the dressing, graceful and winning manner, pretty features flashing eyes ebon tresses sweet voice and perfect vocalization in the rendition of artistic vocal numbers has been entrancing the patrons of the Orpheum was approached on the subject

De Lussan is singing on the same stage with La Valera It was an unpleasant subject on which to approach the lady But she finally consented to say although with great reluctance

What de Lussan Says

I can't imagine two such charming women as Mrs Phipps and Mrs Goodwin cavilling over their artistic merits respectively in the terpsichorean and the histrionic art

What they should do is to kiss and make up

'It looks very much as if it were going to become a suffragette movement but both ladies having at their command strong and manly husbands are sure to be protected

'You ask me how I consider Mrs Phipps as a dancer? I regret to say that I have not had the pleasure of witnessing the lady perform on the stage but to judge from the applause I should say that she was not only a charming but also a most popular dancer

HORTON PHIPPS WATCHES INTERESTS OF PRETTY WIFE

An interesting incident occurred at the Orpheum Theater last Tuesday evening when Madame de Lussan was tendered a magnificent floral piece by one of her friends The floral offering was probably the handsomest seen at the Orpheum Theater since it opened It consisted of an armful of St Joseph lilies and magnificent American beauty roses When Zelie de Lussan received the compliment she graciously bowed to the audience and was given a splendid reception

It is stated on the best authority that Horton Phipps was sitting in the front row at the time of the presentation of the floral piece to de Lussan His wife, La Valera appeared on the program later than de Lussan Phipps left the theater suddenly rushed to the nearest floral store so the story goes and had prepared a floral offering nearly a duplicate to the one presented to de Lussan besides several other floral pieces

When La Valera finished her dance she was showered with floral offerings Those who are in the little joke behind the story are appreciating the stage gossip concerning the flowers received by the artist last night

YOUTH DENIES MURDERING POLTERA GIRL

Prisoner Declares He Never Saw Child Who Was Brutally Slain

NEW CLEWS PROVE TO BE OF IMPORTANCE

Authorities Are Still at Sea as to the Perpetrator of Outrage

LOS ANGELES May 27 Apparently the scores of sleuths who have been on the trail of the brutal murderer of Annie Poltera the 9-year-old school girl who was outraged and killed in Griffith Park on May 1[illegible] are today no nearer a solution of the mystery than when the hunt began If they are they do not themselves realize it

The new clews which have been unearthed including the bloody and torn shirt found on the river bank the girl's lunch basket etc have materially strengthened the hands of the authorities in ferreting out the perpetrator of the crime but so far they have produced no definite result

Denies He Is Guilty

Whether Ben Elliott the 18-year-old youth now in the county jail and against whom suspicion has been most strongly directed knows anything of the murder or not is undetermined Many of the detectives are satisfied that Elliott knows nothing about the crime Others are convinced that further revelations will involve him At least he is the only man now in custody at whom the finger of suspicion seems to point

Elliott will have his preliminary hearing on the charge of burglary today O A Gallup a merchant of Tropico is the complainant Elliott has admitted that he entered the store four times and took an amount of food and some other articles of small value He tells what is apparently a frank and full story and asserts positively that he never saw Annie Poltera or knew of the murder until he read of it in the newspapers

Sheriff Hammel is convinced that Elliott is innocent of the crime Today the sheriff took the bloody and torn shirt found yesterday to Mrs Bennett in Tropico at whose home Elliott lived and after examining it closely she said that the young man never owned such a shirt It had been mended twice apparently by a woman and Mrs Bennett said she would have known if Elliott had such a garment

The hairs found at the scene of the crime do not fit Elliott's description They are black while Elliott is a blond

It was shortly after 8 o'clock last night that Policeman Michael Bain was notified by a stranger that a man and woman were engaged in a fight at Dougherty's shack The policeman hastened to the scene and found the woman lying unconscious upon the floor and Dougherty standing over her with the murderous weapon lying shattered at his feet He endeavored to rush from the shack and escape as the officer entered but Bain grabbed him and after a brief struggle placed the handcuffs upon his wrists.

JABS KNIFE IN VICTIM ELEVEN TIMES

'He's Got Me!' Cries Wounded Man as Farewell to Barkeeper

FIGHT TAKES PLACE IN FRONT OF SALOON

Row Over Payment of Drinks Said to Have Been Cause of Crime

In a drunken fury, Dominick Cirmella, a bootblack, who has a stand in front of the Antlers' Saloon, corner of Nineteenth street and San Pablo avenue, stabbed J. C. Burlision, a carpenter, eleven times with a pocket knife this morning, inflicting wounds which resulted in the death of the victim five minutes later. The cause of the fight was a dispute over the payment for drinks.

Fists Against Knife

The men had been drinking in the Antlers saloon for several hours. The bootblack was the more intoxicated of the two and is alleged to have upbraided Burlisson for not buying his share of the drinks. A fight followed, taking place directly in front of the bootblack stand. The men fought their way into the saloon. Cirmella was using his knife while Burlisson depended on his fists.

Cirmella repeatedly plunged the weapon into the body of his opponent, finally stabbing him in the heart. A gaping hole almost an inch in diameter was torn in the body of Burlision and he staggered against the bar

"He's Got Me!" He Cries

"Well, he has got me," said the wounded man He held forth his hand to Geo. London the bartender, who shook it. He then sank into a chair According to the statements of several persons who were attracted by the fight the fury of the bootblack was so great that he rushed at his defeated adversary while he was in the chair and thrust the knife into his abdomen With the last thrust Burlision staggered to his feet and escaped through the door to the street He tottered for 10 or 15 paces and fell on the sidewalk by an automobile

The police patrol was summoned and the wounded man rushed to the Receiving Hospital.

Policeman Smith arrested Cirmella. He denied having stabbed Burlision, but admitted they had been fighting He was very badly frightened, but was unable to collect his faculties owing to the amount of liquor he had absorbed

The dead man is said to be connected with a well to do family of England He was in receipt of remittances from his native country He resided at 837½ San Pablo avenue

In Trouble Before

Cirmella has been in trouble before. He beat a man recently over the head, nearly killing him

Fred A. Plagg Steals Diamond From Safe Deposit Through Forged Order

Fred A. Plagg, a young man said to be connected with a prominent Spokane family, who was recently placed on probation in the Superior Court on a charge of forgery, is in the toils again for forging an order on the Central Bank for six diamond rings, belonging to Mrs. Emma Rubenstein, proprietor of the St. Nicholas apartment house, corner of Fifteenth and Clay streets, the same person whose name he had previously forged to checks.

Plagg was rooming with Mrs. Rubenstein and was treated as one of the family, both the proprietor of the lodging house and her daughter, Miss Elvina Rubenstein, treating him with unusual consideration. He finally forged a series of checks, using his benefactress' name. He was arrested and convicted, but through the intercession of the woman he robbed he was placed on probation.

Again Forges Name

In the meantime Mrs. Rubinstein was afflicted with paralysis and she turned over the management of her house to her daughter, including the right to open her safe deposit vault in the Central Bank. Plagg learned of this condition of affairs and immediately planned another robbery of the woman who had befriended him. He went to the bank representing himself to be the brother of Mrs. Rubenstein and the uncle of Miss Rubenstein. He forged an order, using the name of the daughter. This order gave him the right to open the safe deposit vault. He did this and stole from the box six diamond rings which he immediately pawned for $150. The gems have been recovered.

Plagg was arrested last night and placed in detinue. He was today turned over to the officers of the superior court and will be sentenced on his prior conviction of forgery.

LEAVES HER FIVE CHILDREN $5.00

Mrs. Jacobine Roemer Bequeaths Bulk of $2000 Estate to Deaf Son

The will of the late Jacobine B. H. Roemer of Melrose, which was filed this morning in the Superior Court for probate, cuts five children off with $1 each and leaves the residue of the estate, valued at about $2000, to William C. Roemer, one of the sons, for the reason as stated in the document that "he is not by nature capable to fight this world as many, by reason of deafness, and also because he has been of great assistance to me in rebuilding my home after the explosion of the fuse works."

Mrs. Roemer's home was near a fuse factory which blew up in Melrose and was destroyed in the catastrophe which was the sensation of the day at the time it occurred. Mrs. Roemer and her husband, now both deceased, conducted a dairy in Melrose for years. The children who receive only a dollar from the estate are Justine Held of New York, Charles Roemer of Alameda, Mary Davis of Berkeley and Louis Roemer of Ukiah. In addition to $1 the youngest daughter, Bertha Wittich, is bequeathed her mother's jewelry and wearing apparel.

William C. Roemer is named by the will as executor of the estate without bonds. Diobert & Stietzler are the attorneys for the estate.

CITIZENS OF OAKLAND ARE WITNESSES AT THE HEARING OF CALHOUN

Give Evidence in Connection With the Dynamiting of Temporary Home of James L. Gallagher

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—Several citizens of Oakland took part in the proceedings in the trial of Patrick Calhoun this morning, giving evidence in connection with the dynamiting of the temporary home of James L. Gallagher, chief of the boodling board of supervisors.

The testimony was largely of a contradictory nature, being offered by Special Prosecutor Heney in an effort to overthrow the theories offered by Luther Brown and Thomas Gibson to the effect that it might have been what is known as an inside job.

Detectives Leo Bunner and Edward P. O'Connell have been added to the force of officers at the trial by order of Captain of Police Gleeson and took seats together with the other plain clothes men inside the rail.

The police are extremely vigilant and several persons were again searched today to determine whether or not they carried firearms.

A typewriter repairer carrying a large satchel slipped by the policemen at the door without being noticed for a moment, but when he was finally spied, was brought back and made to show that only tools were inside his grip.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—The scene of the Calhoun trial having shifted from the charge of an attempt to bribe ex-supervisor Fred P. Nicholas to an investigation of the cases and incidents of the blowing up of Big Jim Gallagher's house, Special Prosecutor Francis J. Heney saw fit to accuse Detective Thomas Gibson and Luther Brown with manufacturing evidence during the hearing this morning. The dynamite side issue in the case was temporarily laid aside yesterday while a delegation of spies from the gum shoe brigade of William J. Burns gave their testimony, but today the prosecution was ready with witnesses who were on the scene at the time of the Oakland explosion and it immediately became apparent that every detail of that episode was to be gone into.

Oakland Man Witness

Dr. Guy Brown, a dentist of Oakland, who was a guest of Gallagher on Tuesday, April 22, 1908, when the blowing up occurred, was placed on the stand. He told of the various incidents following one another at the time the house was partially destroyed and maintained positively that all of the members of the families of Big Jim and of his brother-in-law, Schenck, were in the building at the time.

He described the relative position of the rooms and related the damage that had been done to steps, fireplaces and furniture.

The cross-examination by Attorney Stanley Moore was brief and Heney, resuming again with the witness, asked him as to how much talking he had done when he came out of the wrecked home on the night in question. This matter had been already gone into and Attorney Stanley Moore objected.

"This witness cannot bolster up his evidence in this way," he protested.

"Bolster up his evidence?" repeated Heney. "That is in keeping with the other insinuations made by them ever since the beginning of this case."

Proceeding Illegal

"May it please your honor," interposed Attorney King, "I'm getting a little fatigued at this doctrine of insinuation which counsel is continually bringing out on the face of his own testimony. This whole proceeding is illegal. He is trying here to prove a collateral matter—the blowing up of this man's house."

"This evidence," retorted Heney, "is brought to contradict the statements of Thomas Gibson and Luther Brown, known to them to be absolutely false, and they were manufacturing evidence again and manufacturing evidence against their attempt to interfere with Burns, who was endeavoring to protect a principal witness and to keep him alive to testify in these cases."

"That's all bosh," flared King, "the most perfect bosh that was ever heard in a courthouse."

Dr. Brown was excused after the objection of counsel had been overruled, and he replied that he had done a little talking after leaving the residence.

Scene of Explosion

Thomas J. Warner, retired, of 963 East Seventeenth street, who was referred to by Luther Brown as the man who had been smoking in his back yard when the explosion occurred, was next.

He affirmed that he had seen the building falling to pieces, had gone over as quickly as he could, observed some of the family leaving the house and a crowd of people around. He denied that someone had met him at the gate and told him to keep away.

Has No Theory

Thomas Gardiner, president of the Firemen's Fund Insurance company, residing at 1376 Nineteenth avenue, followed. He is the owner of the Gallagher residence and he curtly informed Heney that he had no theories in regard to the dynamiting.

"So many people came and asked me what my theories were that I determined to have no theories," he explained. "Mr. Burns' men were there; they ought to be able to give you information."

"I'm not asking for your theory. I'm asking what you saw," declared the prosecutor.

The witness asserted that he had not made statements to anyone who questioned him, but had told what he knew to Captain of Detectives Petersen of Oakland.

He then recounted the loss he sustained in the explosion, claiming the greatest amount of damage was done to a bedroom occupied by one of the young women, which was absolutely destroyed.

Abbott Is Recalled

Attorney William M. Abbott was thereupon recalled by Heney, who asked him if he had a copy of two reports alleged to have been given to him by Nicholas Korngold, one prepared by John Helms and the other in the handwriting of I. A. Platt.

He replied that he had no recollection of receiving them and that if he had they had been destroyed, as all such papers were confidential after each case. The defense had no questions to propound and Nicholas Korngold was called.

Over Attorney Stanley Moore's objection the gum shoe man claimed that on May 3, 1908, he had given Abbott a few papers. He stated the contents of the Platt report to be as follows:

Mr. Burns is at present taking up all of his time investigating the dynamiting of Gallagher's house and all of Burns' men are investigating jurors. Also—there was a woman at Mr. Burns' house two nights before who said she knew a great deal about the dynamiting.

Same Old Korngold

The Helms report was chiefly made up according to the witness of reports on jurors and a statement to the effect that he had assigned Korngold and Hayes to look up the affair of the woman who had been talking to Burns, but that they had found out nothing about her.

On cross-examination he was asked:

"You are the same Korngold whom I questioned yesterday, are you?"

"Yes," was the answer.

"You haven't changed your name since?" inquired Heney.

"No, sir."

"You haven't been arrested?" interrogated Rogers.

"No, sir."

"Did you know that Harry Laurentzen was arrested for having a gun on him yesterday?" yelled the prosecutor.

"Stop, stop, that's misconduct, your honor," flared Attorney King, while the witness' reply was lost in the noise of the encounter.

"He didn't shoot his wife, though," interjected Rogers.

"Call the next witness," ordered the court.

Special Prosecutor Heney next offered in evidence the petition for a writ of prohibition in the case of the United Railroads vs. Daniel T. Deasy, restraining the magistrate from opening the package of papers seized from the offices of the company in the Balboa building.

The defense objected, but the court overruled them and Attorney Stanley Moore requested that the document be read, counsel for the people handing it over, and Moore read it to the jury.

At the conclusion of the reading Attorney William M. Abbott was called and testified to the fact that he had employed Attorney William H. Metson to appear in connection with the Burns raid.

Owing to the fact that Judge Lawlor had to attend a meeting of all of the Superior Court jurists an adjournment was taken just after 12 o'clock.

The prosecution has issued a number of subpoenas for various newspaper men and others connected directly or indirectly with the various issues of the case and it is thought that it will be some time yet before the trial will be brought to a close.

Afternoon Session

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—When THE TRIBUNE went to press yesterday afternoon John L. Lawlor was still on the stand. He recounted that Brown had told him that he himself was to be known as Lewis in that transaction and the witness as Ford.

In like manner fictitious names were to be used in connection with the attaches of the district attorney's office, and an endeavor was to be made to find out all about all the men in Burns' employ.

On cross-examination Lawlor seemed to fight shy of the appellation of detective. He had been engaged, he claimed, on special work and would not admit that his occupation came under the head of detective. He confessed to having circulated a petition among prospective jurors on behalf of Burns asking that the prosecution against Ford and Calhoun be stopped and afterwards made report on what several citizens said.

Worked for Burns

The witness admitted further that he never intended to leave Burns' employ, but was working under the latter's directions all the time the negotiations were going on for him to accept work under Brown at $10 per day.

"It was a Burns plot, so to speak, was it?" was asked.

"Brown first negotiated with me."

"When you went over to Fruitvale you went under instructions from Mr. Burns, did you not?"

"I was directed by Mr. Burns to go over there after Cranford told me he wanted me to meet someone, and I had told Burns."

"Did you tell Mr. Brown you would go to work for him?"

"I did after he had made me an offer."

Methods of Sleuth

The witness was then questioned as to whether he had read an article in the American Magazine entitled "Burns, Master of Intrigue." [illegible] Heney's objection was sustained by the court. His honor also refused to allow the inquiry as to whether it had not been one of Burns' methods to place money in various places for people to get it.

It was brought out, however, that on one occasion the graft prosecution's detective had put money in a washstand in the Willard House at Washington in order to trap a certain clerk. Judge Lawlor here directed that counsel pass to another subject and Attorney Stanley Moore reserved an exception to the ruling.

Burns a Hard Man

Lawlor had told Brown in one of his conversations with him that Burns was hard to get along with.

"He and I had a good many spats," declared the witness. "We didn't get along well all the time."

He had intended at one time to go into business for himself, taking Dick Cranford in as a partner, although it appears that he rather distrusted the latter.

He had told Cranford that he was tired of the way things were going with Burns. This talk occurred about a week before the Fruitvale interview and Lawlor held that he was in earnest then, but that when he had told Brown he wanted to leave Burns' employ at that time he was only pretending.

Schindler Petition

On being shown a copy of the petition circulated advocating the abolishment of the prosecution Lawlor asserted that it had been given to him by Raymond Schindler, another Burns gum shoe man. Schindler had had charge of a force of men, but save in this transaction the witness had never worked under him and was quite particular that fact be understood.

"I thought he was assuming the authority of a straw boss and I resented it," he explained. "He had not had much experience."

The court sustained objections to many of the queries propounded to the witness by Moore and the defendant's counsel had difficulty in bringing out a number of facts. [illegible] would not even allow the petition to be entered in evidence. It developed that [illegible] was the author of the petition circulated to the prospective jurors and his statement to this effect came as a surprise to Moore.

"That petition did not state that it came from Ford or Calhoun," [illegible] declared the witness. "It did state [illegible]"

Trickery Charged

"Wait a moment," [illegible] "[illegible] say what it did state."

"Why, that looks like trickery," [illegible] stated Attorney Stanley Moore.

"You talk about saving time, [illegible]" retorted the prosecutor.

"We don't propose to open up any more side issues [illegible]."

"That's [illegible] as far as [illegible]," replied M[illegible].

DIRT FILL TO REPLACE BRIDGE

Traction Co. Must Transfer Passengers Until Thoroughfare Is Completed

THE TRIBUNE is frequently asked why the Eighth street and Fifth avenue trolley line to East Oakland does not make continuous service and why the service is so irregular. The answer is simple. The Oakland Traction Company is under the circumstances giving the best service possible and is absolutely blameless.

The trouble occurs at the Eighth street bridge crossing the north arm of the estuary. Many months ago that structure was condemned as [illegible] and closed to traffic by the public works board except to the wagons which have since been employed in dumping dirt on the south side of the bridge to form a retaining wall to hold the dredgings from Lake Merritt in the formation of Lakeside Park.

Meantime the Oakland Traction Company has been maintaining a ten-minute service for the accommodation of the public, in which the cars [illegible] at the bridge, as [illegible] on either side is prohibited by the Board of Works from proceeding beyond the approach. Passengers [illegible] are given transfers, but must walk across the bridge to make the connection [illegible] waiting either [illegible] for passengers making the crossing, which is safe enough for [illegible] trains.

This has been the unavoidable condition for many months past and until the [illegible] is filled to the level with the [illegible] dredgings [illegible] the new fill [illegible] at the east end of the bridge [illegible] the same condition must continue. When the [illegible] which is being pumped into the reclaimed territory has [illegible] off and solidified, a portion of thoroughfare will be substituted for the [illegible] time trestle bridge and through traffic on the Eighth street car line will be restored. Until then the public will be compelled to put up with the present inconvenience.

Taft and Emperor William Are Placed Upon a "Dry" Pedestal

DENVER, May 27.—President Taft, Emperor William and President Eliot of Harvard University were placed on [illegible] pedestals by the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church this morning, when their example of turning teetotalers after many years was commended in the approval of the report of the temperance committee of the assembly. The temperance report [illegible] features [illegible] reforms which it is proposed to achieve by memorials to congress. Here are some of them:

That the receipt of revenue in any form from the liquor traffic be discontinued.

That the Federal government shall no longer issue liquor tax receipts in prohibition territory.

That interstate shipments of liquor be discontinued.

That a prohibitory zone twenty five miles in width be established around every Indian reservation.

That the mails be closed to the advertising of the distributing of liquor.

Social Drinking Tabooed

The report was read and commended by Dr. Luther Ostrander. It commended the fraternal orders heretofore noted for their convivial membership for its action in [illegible] the sale or drinking of liquor about the lodge premises.

Newspapers which carry liquor advertising fell under the ban of the assembly, it being recommended that such papers be not patronized.

Society drinking also received a set back when it was urged that the women's societies of the church make war on this evil and make it their business to fight the use of liquor in women's clubs and in the home.

The last Sunday in October was set aside as Temperance Day.

Storm of Protests

A heated debate resulted when the matter of reducing representation to the assembly was taken up from the floor. A number of amendments to the plan offered by Dr. S. J. Nichols of St. Louis were offered, but all brought a storm of protests. Dr. John [illegible] Hill of Chicago offered an amendment based on church population [illegible] 30 to Presbyteries, but Hill's was well [illegible].

A. J. Young of Abilene, Tex., demanded to know what the attitude of the North [illegible] was to be [illegible] the North [illegible]. [illegible] Hill said it was not a time for [illegible] patriotism to take [illegible] over the regulation of the church [illegible] brought applause.

Trouble Is Averted

Trouble was avoided when Dr. Fullerton, the former moderator, proposed that each member with a plan submit the [illegible] to the policy committee to be [illegible] out, and this plan was adopted and further debate [illegible]. The question will come up tomorrow.

The new track of the Ruhleben Trotting Club will be finished soon in view of the opening meeting in the latter part of May. The track surface is of sand, watered and rolled, the foundations being of brick and cement. It is slower than the best American tracks by perhaps three or four seconds in the mile. The circuit of the track is 1050 feet, the home stretch being about 1171 feet.—New York Herald's Paris edition.

TO COLLECT BACK TAXES OF $85,750

Water Company to Pay to County Large Sum Long in Dispute

Through the efforts and persistent conduct of its case by the district attorney's office, Alameda county is now coming into its own in connection with the litigation with the Contra Costa Water company, predecessor of the corporation at present serving Oakland, to collect the amount of back taxes. The matter has been in litigation for something like five years.

Under an agreement just effected by District Attorney Donahue the company will within a few days pay into the county treasury $85,750, the assessments made on the franchise and certain pipe lines of the old corporation. This is only part of the money the county lays claim to, the total sum involved in the litigation being $104,000, but the Contra Costa people still refuse to settle the assessment on water in Lake Chabot, and this phase of the matter is to be contested to the Supreme Court at the earliest possible date. The payment of the $85,750 to the county does not carry with it any compromise and the District Attorney will continue the legal fight for what is still claimed to be due, in spite of the partial settlement.

Records Restored

On July 1, 1904, Judge Murasky of the Superior Court of San Francisco granted an injunction against Alameda county restraining it from selling the plant of the Contra Costa Water Company for delinquent taxes. While the case was pending the papers in the case were destroyed in the fire of 1906 and shortly after that catastrophe, when W. H. Donahue became district attorney, he accomplished the restoration of the records. Then the litigation was renewed.

The county's assessment was attacked by the water company on several grounds. It held that the levying of tax upon the water in Lake Chabot represented a double assessment, because the land itself had been assessed, and this contention is still held by the People's Water Company.

Then the Contra Costa Water Company maintained that its franchise could not be assessed, but a recent ruling in a case from Stockton holds adversely to this contention, so the tax levied on the franchise is included in the sum which the company has now agreed to pay to the county.

To Settle Claim

The value of the pipe lines and some other property was also in dispute, but the People's Water Company has admitted the justice of this assessment and it will be settled.

While the settlement just accomplished was in progress, the question arose as to whether the delinquent penalties would accrue. District Attorney Donahue expressed the opinion that the injunction granted by Judge Murasky in San Francisco did not touch upon the issue and that they could not be included. He wrote to Attorney-General Webb for a ruling on the question and the latter has given it as his opinion the attitude of the District Attorney was sound.

When the $85,750, soon to be paid into the county treasury, is received, it will settle most of the unpaid claims against the county up to and possibly including 1906, and if the county succeeds in landing the $18,250 assessed against the water in the lake it will have that much more to devote to old debts.

New Comet, Millions Miles Long, Visible

NEW YORK, May 27.—A new comet which is flying through space at the rate of many million miles a minute may be seen by the naked eye just after sunset any evening on the southwest horizon, according to Edward Fairfax Naulty, an astronomer who has confirmed the discovery of the comet on Monday by Professor R. Brooks of Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y. Naulty says that the new comet is speeding toward the sun and should be visible for a number of days yet. Because of the direction of the comet's flight and the relative position of the earth, its head is not visible, but Naulty and Professor Brooks say that its tail, which is several million miles in length, can be clearly detected. The astronomers agree that there is no danger of a collision with the earth.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic. It does not stimulate. It does not make you feel better one day, then as bad as ever the next. There is not a drop of alcohol in it. PROMINENT PHYSICIAN ACCUSED OF FRAUD

Dr. Aloysius O'Brien and Wife Charged With Conspiracy in Will Case

Nieces Claim the Decedent Was Under Influence of His Doctor

SAN FRANCISCO May 27—Dr Aloysius O Brien a wealthy physician residing at 2068 Pine street his wife Veronica and daughter Nellie are charged in a contest filed in the Superior Court today against a petition to probate the will of the late Philip Bolger with conspiring to defraud the rightful heirs out of the property

As a second ground for contest Mrs Mary M Bolger Barker and Miss Margaret Bolger daughters of the late Thomas Bolger a brother of the decedent testator allege that for some time before his death Philip Bolger was held an inmate of the home of Dr O'Brien and there coerced into making a will whereby the wife and daughter of the physician are each left one-fifth of his wealth

Leaves Small Fortune

Philip Bolger died in this city ten years ago leaving an estate which while not appraised is said to be worth about $30 000 For years until illness forced him to forsake his business he was one of the prominent insurance men of the city He was never married

For many months his nieces claim he was a sufferer from cancer of the stomach to such a degree that almost a year ago his mind was deranged

Living alone in his apartments he conceived the idea that he was not in a position to receive proper medical treatment and with the consent of Dr O Brien it is charged he moved to the physician's home in Pine street There it is claimed he was installed in a room and lived until he died

Allege Influence

During all of the time he was in the physician's house, the two contestants claim, he was under the direct influence of Dr O Brien his wife and daughter and while in their house and under their influence was coerced and influenced to make a will in their favor. This the nieces allege, was not a difficult task as his mind was in such a condition that he was irresponsible and did not realize that in obeying the wishes of the alleged conspirators he was cutting off his own blood relatives

During the time their uncle remained at the home of Dr O Brien, the sisters claim they were not notified of his serious condition Therefore they did not establish communication with him or aid him in any manner whatsoever in his last illness The first intimation they had of the real serious condition of their relative was when his death was announced

Will Is Filed

A week ago Dr O Brien filed the will of the decedant and applied for letters testamentary It is this application the two women now contest and will carry their fight before Judge Coffey in the Superior Court where the application is pending

For years prior to his death it is alleged by the contestants Bolger was an incompetent and at the time of making his will was an easy tool in the hands of the O Briens

Taft Disapproves Of 'The Revellers'

WASHINGTON May 27 — President Taft last night expressed forcibly his disapproval of the trend of a certain branch of this year s theatrical product He attended the performance of The Revellers which depicts the tenderloin of New York and includes in its presentation of the white-light life a dance performed by one of Evelyn Thaw s former chums

The President who had been in a box departed in disgust at the end of the first act His presence had been noted by the entire audience and his departure was observed by all

The Revellers is not the worst of a group of plays produced in New York this year and is severely criticised for vulgarity and licentiousness

The dance follows an allusion to the extraordinary grace of one of the characters in the play who is represented as a favorite chorus girl among the Johnnies of Broadway There is much drinking of wine before the pippin is sufficiently inspired and then she begins a dance that outdoes many such scenes in plays that have been put under the ban

GIRLS OBJECT TO SCANTY CLOTHING OF BOYS

Bare Legs and Arms of Young Athletes Cause Row in Berkeley

LOW CUT GOWNS OF MAIDENS QUESTIONED

Question of Lads' Costumes Is Subject of Hot Secret Debate

The bare legs and arms of the track athletes of the Berkeley High school have caused the bashful and retiring maidens of the upper classes to enter into lengthy discussions relative to modesty and propriety with the result that at the next meeting of the student body an attempt will be made by the girls to have a law passed requiring the fleet runners to wear track suits that will expose as little as possible of their limbs

The matter came up for discussion among the girls of the debating society and discussion was rife for over two hours The majority believed that the almost nude condition of the school s athletes is shocking

Goodness Gracious!

"Why they hardly wear anything and it is just awful to see their hairy legs and arms I don t care what they say it is just horrid and I don t think they should be allowed to dress that way If you can call it being dressed said one of the leaders of the agitation 'I think one have no more right to come out in that scanty clothing than the girls have she continued

What Boys Say

The athletes themselves say that no objection has ever been made to the girls appearing in any costume that they like and venture the opinion that if the fair Amazons desire to take up track athletes and wear the garb of their brothers no protest will be made by the boys

Track Captain Ainslee Campbell stated that if any rules were passed requiring the athletes to wear gymnasium suits on the track, the time in the various events would be materially effected and that any clothing about the knee would be a real hindrance to the runners

'What are they talking about? said a husky track athlete of the school

'We have more cause to object to some of their dresses at dances then they have to attempt to pass any law providing that we shall wear gymnasium suits on the track

Girls' Party Gowns

have almost been made out of the amount have almist been made out of the amount of material in one track suit and no objection from the fellows was offered either

But the girls were obstinate and furious when presented with this argument It developed that it was not exactly the scanty clothing of the athletes but their horrid hairy limbs that were causing the trouble

THANKS COURT WHEN SENTENCED

Tony Mound Spends Three Months in Jail Awaiting Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—Arrested for assault with a deadly weapon and held three months in jail without trial, Tony Mound this morning thanked Superior Judge Cabaniss when he was given a fifteen-day sentence. The accused was arrested and charged with an assault on Joseph Di Martini on February 7, and since that time his counsel have been demanding that he be tried. The crowded condition of the calendar, growing out of Judge Lawlor's department being entirely taken up with the Calhoun case, prevented a hearing, and today he pleaded guilty to simple assault.

The court took cognizance of the fact that he had been in prison for some time, and when he pronounced a sentence of fifteen days, Mound politely thanked him.

MARINE HOSPITAL NOT TO CHANGE

Senator Perkins Informs the Chamber of Commerce Site Will Not Be Altered

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce was informed unofficially several weeks ago that the Government was considering transferring the Marine Hospital now located at the Presidio, to some other point on San Francisco bay, and the Board of Directors of the chamber appointed a special committee of physicians consisting of Dr. George C Pardee, Dr. Chas. Dukes, Dr H. B. Mehrmann, Dr. Paul Lanz and Dr. Dudley Smith to take the matter up with the proper authorities at Washington, cite the advantages of locating on the east side of San Francisco bay and endeavor to secure the location of the hospital in Oakland, Berkeley or Alameda Today a letter was received from Surgeon-General Wyman which sets at rest all possibility of securing the same. The letter follows:

May 22, 1909.

Honorable I. Harrison Clay,
President Chamber of Commerce,
Oakland, Cal

My Dear Sir: I am in receipt, today, of your letter of May 17, stating that the Oakland Chamber of Commerce is unofficially informed that there is a possibility of removing the U. S. Marine Hospital at the Presidio to another location on the shores of San Francisco bay, and that a committee has been appointed to assist in the selection of an ideal site in Oakland.

In reply I beg leave to inform you that you have been misinformed as to the possible removal of the marine hospital at San Francisco to any other site than that which it now occupies, this matter having once before been brought to the attention of the department, and the Secretary of the Treasury having expressed himself as above. There is no thought in this bureau, or in the department, of changing the present location of the hospital.

Respectfully yours.
WALTER WYMAN,
Surgeon-General.

Senator Perkins further writes, in addition to the above, that he will "give the matter of enlargement of the Federal building in Oakland his immediate attention and will place the communication and resolutions from the Oakland Chamber of Commerce before the committee on Public Buildings and Grounds."

HIGH SCHOOL TO HOLD ELECTION

Primary Today to Be Followed by Regular Fight at Polls Wednesday

The Oakland High School Students' Association was organized last November as a result of the many disagreements and disputes of the several organizations actively taking part in the school work. Its purpose was to encourage, assist and control all societies deserving of the school attention, by means of a students' council elected from the school at large and including the principal, and three representatives from the Athletic Association and Associated Young Women Students of the O H. S The executive power of the association went into effect at the beginning of this term, last January, with the result that the primary elections for the officers for next term are now in progress. The final election will be held next Wednesday at 1 o'clock.

LE FORT IS HELD AND BAIL RAISED

Complaining Witness Miller Still Missing But Trial Will Go On

A. J. Le Fort, erstwhile proprietor of the Press saloon, which was the headquarters for the "Buff Kid" gang, was this morning held to answer for an assault with a deadly weapon committed on his bartender, Henry Miller. His bail was raised by Police Judge Samuels from $2000 to $4000 This was promptly supplied by Philip Read and John Rohan.

The case is peculiar inasmuch as Miller, the complaining witness, is missing and did not testify at the preliminary examination at all

The police have hopes of securing his attendance at the trial, but state their evidence that the assault was committed is sufficiently strong without the presence of Miller

Le Fort is alleged to have decoyed Miller to Franklin and First streets and there beat him with a blackjack.

Cities Have Right To Put Tax on Poles

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—An important decision was handed down by Judge Bordwell in the Superior Court which gives to the cities of California a right to compel telephone and telegraph companies to take out franchises for erecting poles and wires and transacting business.

BENSON FACES JAIL AND FINE

Circuit Court of Appeals Denies Rehearing in Famous Case

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—John A. Benson, so many times accused of obtaining Government land by fraudulent means and so many times slipping past the bounds and into freedom, now finds himself in the shadow of the Alameda County Jail by grace of District Judge De Haven and the indorsement of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. The decision was handed down yesterday by Circuit Judges Gilbert, Ross and Morrow, denying Benson's petition for a rehearing of the case in which, before Judge De Haven, he was jointly convicted with Dr E. B. Perrin of conspiracy to secure subornation of perjury in fraudulently obtaining Government timber land in California.

Judge De Haven's sentence was a year's imprisonment in the Alameda County Jail and a fine of $1000 each. This judgment will be executed as soon as the mandate comes down from the Appellate Court, and only ten days are allowed by law for this formality.

Pleads For Benson

With this in mind, Attorney Metson hurried to the chambers of Presiding Judge Gilbert as soon as he heard of the court's decision and offered a motion for a stay of mandate until he could take an appeal to the Supreme Court. He was informed by Judge Gilbert that he would have to present his motion in open court in order to have it considered.

Dr. Perrin, Benson's co-defendant, has secured a new trial on a writ of error, on the ground that a certain affidavit was not admitted in evidence before the trial jury. Benson's attorney based the petition for a rehearing on the contention that, conspiracy being the charge, if one of the alleged parties to the conspiracy was given a new trial the other should receive the same favor.

POUNDMAN'S LIFE IS THREATENED

Owner of Tagged Dog Seeks Pistol to Shoot Frank Joseph

HAYWARD, May 27.—Attacked by the angry owner of a dog which he sought to impound, Frank Joseph, a poundman, was in danger of his life yesterday until witnesses to the altercation rushed to his rescue and disarmed his assailant, James S. French, a well-known resident of Hayward.

The attack occurred at the corner of B and Castro streets, and a big crowd quickly gathered at the first sign of the struggle, which was precipitated when Joseph caught French's dog and examined his collar for a tag. French immediately rushed into the livery stable of Geary & Bridle and asked for a pistol, saying he was going to shoot the poundman.

They refused to give him the weapon and French, pulling out a pocket knife, rushed at Joseph.

"Drop that dog," he yelled, "or I will cut you open."

The crowd prevented French from carrying out his threat by disarming him. The poundman did not take the dog, as it was already tagged.

Camille Seygard, Now That Honeymoon Is Over, Prepares To Return to Operatic Stage

CAMILLE SEYGARD.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Camille Seygard who, after a short acquaintance, snatched from under the envious eyes of a thousand anxious debutantes the wealthy Bill Armstrong Lane, one of New York's supposedly confirmed batchelors, now that the first weeks of her honeymoon are over, is preparing to again return to the operatic stage, where she has met with flattering success. She was first discovered by one of the big managers while playing the original Charlotte in Massenet's "Welcher," in which role Billy Lane first saw and fell in love with her.

The singer is of French parentage and was born in Russia. As a girl she studied in Paris and made her debut before she reached her twentieth year as Zerlina in "Don Giovanni." Afterwards she joined the Maurice Grau company abroad, where she gained a reputation as the "Feminine Dippel" because of her ability to sing a part on remarkably short notice.

She reached the height of her fame as an opera star in 1903, and her best roles were Rosina in "The Barber of Seville" and Carmen in Bizet's opera of that name.

The recent announcement of her marriage recalls the fact that this is Seygard's second essay along matrimonial lines. She was married some years ago to Emil Fischer, one of the best known bassos on the stage. After a tumultuous career in which conflicting artistic temperaments played a large part, the couple were divorced in 1902.

LOST FORTUNE AT GAMBLING

Anna Held's Husband Sued in New York For $20,000 Gaming Debt

NEW YORK, May 2 —The mystery of what became of the half-million dollars, or thereabouts, which Florenz Zeigfeld, Jr., is said to have won at Monte Carlo on two different occasions, was revealed in the Supreme Court here yesterday, when Alfred Boulant, who admitted that he maintained a gambling house at Biarritz, sued Zeigfeld for $20,000. Letters from Anna Held, wife of Zeigfeld, to Boulant, declared that the American theatrical manager had lost more than $20,000 in Boulant's place at Biarritz, and expressed her assurance that Zeigfeld would pay the $20,000 when able. These letters from the actress related that after making his phenomenal winnings at Monte Carlo, Ziegfeld had not only lost all of the money in gambling houses in Paris and Biarritz, but had lost $20,000 on credit in Boulant's place.

Ziegfeld announced his intention of fighting the suit and therefore it is expected that many details of sensational European gambling will be revealed.

Politics in Tariff-Making.

Both the Democratic Senators from Louisiana made urgent pleas against taking the duty off raw sugar. Practically all the Democratic Senators from the Southern iron-producing State voted for a duty of 25 cents a ton on imported iron ore, claiming that they regarded the duty as revenue and not for protective purposes. Here is an example of theory and fact getting mixed, or rather of a case of a theory being overthrown by a condition. When President Cleveland promulgated his famous tariff reform message in 1887, there was a large surplus in the treasury and the revenues of the government were far in excess of its current expenditures. The situation is now reversed. The government is running behind at the rate of nearly $100,000,000 a year, and revision of tariff taxes must proceed in the face of demonstrated necessity for enlargement of the national income.

Senators from States which produce no sugar and no iron profess to see nothing but protection in the duties imposed on sugar and iron ore. Their contention is neither true in fact nor theory. Sugar furnishes the largest single item of revenue derived from the tariff. The government needs money and must get it from some source or other. The idea that it can be maintained without taxing the people is preposterous But while the tariff on sugar is a great revenue producer, it affords a protection without which the cane growers of Hawaii and the South Atlantic States and the beet-growers of California, Colorado, Utah, Nebraska and Michigan could not exist. Thus the duty on sugar is justifiable from both the tariff-for-revenue and protective points of view. Moreover, the tax on sugar is probably the most equitably distributed and apportioned of all taxes. It is purely a tax on consumption, and everybody in the land consumes sugar and articles of food into which sugar enters. It is axiomatic that the consumption of sugar per family is, on a broad average, an accurate guage of the wealth and earning capacity of the people. The wealthier and more prosperous families are the larger the quantity of sugar they consume. Hence Senator Foster was quite right in saying that he was entirely consistent in voting for the sugar tax as a tariff for revenue proposition, although it is more than likely that his vote was prompted mainly by the protection the tax affords to the sugar planters of Louisiana.

With iron ore the case is somewhat different. The duty of 25 cents a ton is so small that it is not vital to the owners of American mines and cannot appreciably affect the price of iron, and it is not large enough to deter the importation of foreign ore American producers derive some benefit, of course, but it is trifling, while the tax affords the government a considerable item of revenue which is very necessary at this time.

Unfortunately, however, there is too much politics and sectional selfishness in tariff-making. Theories are strained either for political effect or for local advantage, and facts are either distorted or ignored that false impressions may be conveyed to the public mind. In the piece-meal controversy over particular items in the schedule, the great central fact is lost sight of that tearing down the tariff will not only dislocate and paralyze industry all over the country but deprive the government of the revenue necessary for its maintenance.

What the Direct Primary Did in Illinois.

The long deadlock in the Illinois Legislature has been broken by the election of "Blueyed Billy" Lorimer, the "blonde boss" of the stockyards, to succeed Hopkins in the Senate. The change is not an improvement, and it is another evidence of the decadence of the party of Jefferson and Jackson that the Democratic members assisted a minority of the Republicans in electing to the Senate a man who will not be a credit to that body or the State. Hopkins is not a great man, but he was at least a respectable member of the Senate. Lorimer is a politician of the ward boss type—a man of much force and native intellect, but unscrupulous in method and grossly materialistic in philosophy. But if his sanity is rough and coarse, it is vigorous and resolute, and has a practical quality that has its advantages as well as disadvantages. However, it is something of a surprise to see an avowed boss elected to the Senate as the first result of a direct primary law which was devised to eliminate the boss and make the election of Senators a direct expression of the electorate. In the primary election Hopkins received a decisive majority of the Republican vote, but a considerable number of the Republican legislators refused to obey the popular mandate and persisted in voting for various candidates till they finally coalesced with the Democrats to elect the Republican boss of Chicago. Ballot reform seems to have made a worse mess of it in this instance than it did in Oregon, where a Legislature overwhelmingly Republican elected a Democrat to succeed a Republican in the Senate.

Freaky Season.

Since March 30 no rain has fallen in California. Prior to that date rain had fallen almost continuously for three consecutive months. The intervals of fair weather during that period lasted only a few hours and they were few and far between. We have, therefore, had two months of rainless weather at a season when frequent showers are in order in accordance with the precedence of the long list of years covered by official meteorological records. The old couplet, "April showers bring forth May flowers," has failed of fulfillment absolutely this year. There were no April showers, but May flowers have been abundant, nevertheless, for the soil in this State was so saturated by the rains during the first three months of the year that it has remained sufficiently moist up to the present time to nourish all kinds of vegetation.

The drought of the past two months has evidently extended also over the western states of Mexico. There it is producing disastrous results. The pastures are reported to have dried up and horned cattle are dying by the thousands. Apparently the seasonable workings of nature have gone wrong this year on this side of the continent.

While this month has been rainless, it has been freaky in its fluctuations, some days the wind blowing strong and chilly from the cool northwest, followed by others sufficiently sultry to suggest to old-timers the possibility of earthquakes. But these seismic phenomena seem to have shifted locations this spring, central Washington and five of the Middle West States being badly shaken and California quiescent.

Unless the weather exhibits more freaks in the next week or ten days, we may regard the rainy season over. Rains at this time would in fact be unwelcome. The small fruits are so advanced that rain now would do vastly more harm than good. The harvesting of hay is also in progress all over the State and rain at present would do an immense amount of damage to the crop. If we get no more rain, in fact, until the coming fall, the State will profit immensely by it. But the so-called "wet-season" of 1908-09 will go down in history as one of The Mississippi Valley Earthquake.

The temblor which shook the whole of the upper Mississippi valley yesterday recalls the great earthquake of 1811, which destroyed New Madrid and convulsed the land from the waters of the upper Ohio to the base of the Rocky mountains, changing the course of streams, causing lakes to disappear and huge fissures to yawn. Had the Mississippi valley been as thickly populated then as now the loss of life would probably have been greater than the casualty list resulting from the recent earthquake in Italy. The shock of yesterday shows that no part of the earth is free from seismic disturbance. It is also a warning to our Eastern neighbors not to vaunt too much of fancied security from a vicissitude which they magnify into a peril in speaking of California. Every year more people are killed by tornadoes in the Mississippi valley than lost their lives in the temblor of 1906 in this State, but Eastern people view the constant menace of tornadoes with equanimity while pretending to shiver with terror at the idea of earthquakes Tornadoes never visit California, nor is sunstroke known here. Each year hundreds of people are killed off in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston, Baltimore and St. Louis by sunstroke and excessive heat. Last year heat killed more people in New York City than were killed in San Francisco by the earthquake of April, 1906, but the annual slaughter there is taken as a matter of course, while out here loss of life at rare intervals from seismic disturbance is spoken of as involving a continuous danger. There is ten times more danger from tornadoes and sunstroke in the East than there is from earthquake on the Pacific Coast.

The reopening of the direct line from Oakland to Santa Cruz, which is announced to take place next Saturday, will be a great public convenience to Santa Cruz and to the bay cities. This direct route has been closed for a long time pending the broad gauging of the tracks and the widening of the tunnel at Wrights This has all been finished now and after the opening on Saturday two broad gauge trains will leave Oakland and San Francisco for Santa Cruz each week day and on Sundays three trains will leave each of the two bay cities. Santa Cruz is one of the most popular as well as one of the most attractive of California's ocean shore watering places, and it is, withal, one of the most enterprising of the cities located on the coast. Now that the comforts of broad gauge railroad trains are installed on the direct route, the charming city will be more popular to excursionists than it has been hitherto

The Italian committee in charge of the distribution of the funds contributed by the civilized nations of the earth and by the Italian parliament for the relief of the Calabrian and Sicilian sufferers by the earthquake which destroyed Messina, Reggio and other cities and towns has done its work expeditiously. It is only a few months since the great catastrophe occurred, but the committee is said to have handled over $20,000,000 and now has less than $70,000 left in the treasury. But the rapidity with which the distribution has been made seems to have given rise to the same kind of scandal as was associated with the handling and distribution of the San Francisco relief funds. The dispensation of the Italian relief fund is said to have cut a large figure in the recent elections in which the name of the premier was bandied about.

Brother of Owner Declares Property Won't Be Exchanged With Government

EDITOR TRIBUNE: I received the clipping about the saving of the Big Trees, but the newspapers ought to sit up and take notice as the Big Trees are still the property of my brother. Congress must think he is easy, just a practical exchange of timber for timber. As he has his tract of land all joining here and there is nothing like this in the world, and he paid his good cash for the trees, he intends keeping them. As a trade, why, anyone would trade a tract of land off if he could get something as good as the Big Trees.

I am, as ever, yours very sincerely,

UNIQUE AFFAIR

The "white elephant" party given at the Piedmont Sulphur Springs clubhouse, May 19, was an innovation on this coast. This unique affair was given by Mrs. George B. Ferguson in honor of her guest, Miss Ella Cutting of Newton, Massachusetts. Lunch was served on the club house veranda, after which the assembled guests retired to the home of Mrs. Ferguson on Hillside avenue where a pleasant program of music was rendered.

This form of amusement, which is very popular in the east, was introduced by Miss Cutting, who is a house guest of Mrs. Ferguson. It is a most amusing game. Each guest when invited is asked to bring some contribution which she considers a "white elephant." These packages are laid upon a table and after blindfolding each guest they are allowed to chose a package. When every one has been supplied, they seat themselves in a circle and open their prizes. The affair of last week was intensely funny and the packages were opened amidst shouts of laughter.

A large paper white elephant was pinned upon the wall, the guests drawing lots for it, the successful one being Eugene Baldwin.

Among the guests invited were

LIKE FINDING MONEY

Wishart, the popular druggist, is making an offer that is just like finding money, for he is selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is only recently, through the solicitation of Druggist Wishart, that this medicine could be bought for less than 50 cents. He urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment, for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, he will return your money. Postpaid on receipt of price, 50c. Wishart's, Tenth and Washington streets.

McCARTHY FILES NEW SUIT AGAINST SPRECKELS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—P. H. McCarthy, president of the Building Trades Council, swore to a new complaint before Police Judge Shortall yesterday charging John D. Spreckels, proprietor, Charles W. Hornick, general manager, and Ernest Simpson, managing editor of the San Francisco Call, with libel in connection with an article in which the complainant says he is accused of an attempt to betray the Union Labor party. A similar complaint was dismissed several days ago by Shortall because it was defective in that it failed to specify the offense committed. A demurrer was sustained.

PRAISE WORK OF CHINESE MISSIONS

Episcopal Diocese Meets in Regular Convocation in Trinity Church

Members of the Episcopal diocese of San Francisco met in convocation in Trinity church, Twenty-ninth street and Telegraph avenue, Oakland, yesterday morning. Rev. Clifton Macon, dean of the occasion, preached the opening sermon, to the effect that a great effort should be put forth on the part of all the parishes, for the enlargement of the working field. He stated that, taking into consideration the great amount of territory covered by the many parishes of the county, the relative working field was comparatively small. "A broader outlook, increased determination, and a more thorough realization of the vast temptations encountered by the many inhabitants of the district, will assist the endeavor to a remarkable extent," were the pastor's concluding remarks.

Serve Luncheon

After an offering for the Chinese mission in Oakland, a dainty luncheon was served by the women of the parish. During the course of the repast, Dr. G. W. Smith, from Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, spoke upon the subject of the vast growth of the good work in the East, comparing the two sections of the country as regards their similarity of point of view. He was followed by N. B. W. Gallwey, L. C. Sanford and Dr. J. Bakewell, all expressing their gratitude for the many blessings bestowed upon the parishes.

The afternoon session opened with Crompton Sowerbutts and his sermon on the Chinese work, in which was set forth the efforts of the church from the time of the earthquake April 18, 1906, when the Chinese were ordered from the grounds at the north end of Lake Merritt.

"It was that proceeding," said Dr. Sowerbutts, "which first drew the attention of the churches to the terrible wrongs done those poor creatures, and which decided the pending question of opening missions especially for their benefit."

He proceeded with the history of the missions, calling attention to the good work achieved through the donations of the many parishes and concluded by saying that he felt sure that all were satisfied that the work so far accomplished was far in advance of the expectations of those first starting the movement.

Secretary Speaks

The concluding speaker for the afternoon was J. C. Astredo, diocesan secretary, and Bishop Nichols, personal aid. He stated that at a meeting held in Chicago last winter a resolution was unanimously adopted to the effect that commencing November 28, all brotherhoods and missionary boards throughout the world were recommended to observe one week following for the spreading of Christ's kingdom among men.

"The recommendation," concluded he, "has been endorsed by the following orders: Brotherhood of St. Andrew, Presbyterian Brotherhood of America, Men's Movement of the Church of United Brethren, Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Brotherhood of St. Andrew in the West Indies, Baptist Brotherhood, Church of England Men's Society, Laymen's Missionary Movement, National Conference of Church Clubs, Congregational Brotherhood, United Presbyterian Men's Movement, General Assembly United Presbyterian Church, Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Scotland, Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip, General Assembly of Presbyterian Church, Brotherhood of St. Andrew in England, Methodist Brotherhood in the U. S. A., Y. M. C. A. of San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose and Los Angeles."

The evening session of the convocation was devoted to hearing reports from the Sunday-school associations and the missions in general.

FRUITVALE OFFERS AID TO MELROSE AT FIRES

MELROSE, May 27.—The dilemma which Melrose has been placed in, by the fact that it has no horses in the fire department has been mitigated by the offer of the Fruitvale Fire Commissioners to help out in case of necessity until the Melrose commissioners purchase the necessary horse flesh, which they expect to do within the next thirty days. By that time the new engine house will have been completed and the equipment installed for regular work. Until this is accomplished the High street engine will respond to Melrose alarms.

Mlle. Zelie De Lussan Discourses on the Frappe Topic of Art, Home, Singers and Husbands

Her Advice to Wives About Managing Their Husbands Successfully

"Feed Them With Honey and While They Are Sipping Pinch Them."

By BETTY MARTIN

"SHOULD a singer marry?" This was the question propounded to Mlle. Zelie de Lussan at the Orpheum yesterday afternoon.

And to it she gave characteristic reply, speaking from the depths of self-knowledge. Queer, isn't it, how prone everyone is to reason from the personal standpoint, rather than from other grounds?

"Ah!' exclaimed she, with sparkling eyes, and a rapid little gesture of her ungloved hand, "that is a most absorbing topic! one which everybody is interested in."

Considering that the three great events concerning mankind in his earthly career are birth, marriage and death, the question of marriage must of necessity be a vital one. And on this subject no artist is more competent to speak than Mlle. de Lussan, whose operatic triumphs extended over a period of fifteen years, and who is now with this brilliant record behind her, singing to vaudeville audiences "because she loves to."

HIDDEN MEANING IN ALL THAT SHE SAYS.

It is not words, so much, that count, as the numberless little circumstances connected with their utterance, and impossible to convey clearly in print. There is hidden meaning in everything Mlle. de Lussan says, and she is apt to reveal her most inmost thoughts, followed by a quickly uttered—all this is "sub rosa." Under this head came the spice of the interview.

This hint is given that all may read between the lines.

Mlle. Zelie de Lussan sparkles when she talks.

She is full of the fire of life.

She loves the world, largely, I am convinced, because she has always been an adored idol of that same world.

SOME ADVICE TO YOUNG SINGERS ABOUT TO MARRY.

But her advice to young singers contemplating matrimony was tinctured not in the slightest with sentiment.

Hard, common sense was voiced in reply to the question, "Should a singer marry?"

"Not until after she has won her laurels."

This answer came direct and with no hesitation. In support of her view Mlle. Zelie instanced the stars of grand opera whose names are household words, and whose domestic experiences savored of Dead Sea fruit.

Lussan knows these singers, one and all, intimately, too, because of her own operatic career, and does not advise lightly when she tells girls to dismiss the subject of matrimony from their minds until after spurs are won.

"Then ' continued she, "there is plenty o' time for marriage."

HER OWN MARRIAGE LIFE IS AN IDEAL ONE.

And she instanced herself to the point, for in private life Lussan is Madame Frouani. The marriage is an ideally happy one, so the singer declared, even though Signor Frouani happens to be abnormally bashful.

"So bashful," said she, "that I actually have to MAKE him do things' and the sweetest disposition in the world."

Concert singers are exempt from the restrictory measures advised by Lussan, for the career of one engaged in that line was tossed aside with the remark—"mere play."

"An opera singer has no time for domestic life," said she. "Even during her vacation she is obliged to study. At the end of the season the manager gives you, say four operas. 'Here,' he will say, 'learn these for fall rehearsal' We have to take every care of our voices, and, during the season when we're not on the stage, practice every spare minute."

ALWAYS TAKE TIME TO LOOK AFTER HUSBAND.

"Men," came the comment, "are only human"

Which leads to the inference that if wives haven't time to bestow upon their husbands, other women are ready to supply the aching void.

"Besides," so explained Lussan, "there are the constant bickerings and differences to contend with. Husbands are always wanting to know 'why aren't you singing so and so, instead of this role?' Then they insist upon going to the manager and stirring up things generally!"

Not so with Mlle. Zelie de Lussan

"I have always attended to matters myself, all my life," stated she, "and I assure you that throughout my long career there are only three or four unpleasant happenings. But then, I have never demanded too much. I am philosophical, and take for granted that managers know my rank as an artist and will make arrangements accordingly."

MEN NEED SOMEONE TO LOOK AFTER THEM.

When it came to discussing men, entirely different views came to light

"Men ought to marry," she said. "They need some one to look after them."

This is reversal of popular opinion with a vengeance Not that it came from a financial standpoint, but because they like "babying and waiting on."

"Rather hard on the wife," ventured I, to which came hearty assent coupled with "and how many self-respecting women nowadays are willing to make slaves of themselves that way?"

Children put an altogether different complexion upon matters matrimonial in operatic circles. They form the most lasting of bonds, and serve to keep together many artistic people who otherwise would live asunder.

EVERY BABY ADDS A NEW NOTE TO VOICE.

"Why not?" demanded Lussan. "You bring something into the world. You must stay by it! And why shouldn't a singer have children? There's a saying nowadays that every baby adds a new note to a woman's voice."

Although so decided in most questions, there was one, and one only, on which Mlle. de Lussan hedged She granted, without hesitation, that love was the greatest thing in all the world, but when asked her advice if, at the onset, a girl had to choose between love and a career got around the matter by saying that a girl with her heart set upon grand opera would be so busy studying that love of mere man could never enter her heart

GOOD, SOUND ADVICE ABOUT HUSBAND MANAGING.

But for those who had already landed their fish, came a final bit of advice. Not that Mlle de Lussan for one minute likened men to the finny tribes, or even insinuated that such a thing as nets might be spread to entangle them.

In most poetic terms did she speak concerning the management of husbands even though a glint of laughter shone in her eyes

"FEED THEM WITH HONEY AND WHILE THEY'RE SIPPING PINCH THEM."

"All I Want Is to Wring His Neck!"

Also Mrs. Silberhorn Would Jail for Life Man Who Eloped With Her Girl

NEW YORK.—If women are enigmas I don't know what you would call men," said Mrs. James E Armstrong yesterday, in discussing the elopement of her husband with Edith Silberhorn, the seventeen-year-old girl who was cashier in his bakery, at 291 Seventh avenue, Brooklyn "I don't know whether I want him back or not, I haven't decided yet. We lived happily for fifteen years and then, suddenly, he leaves with that snip of a girl The fault lies with the girl's mother If she had had any sense she would have seen how things were going

The police traced the eloping couple to Jersey City, where track of them was lost Mrs F A Silberhorn of 497 Sixth avenue, mother of the girl, declares she will make it hot for Armstrong

"All I want is a chance to wring his neck and send him to prison for life,' she said to a reporter "I sat up all last night thinking the police would catch him, but they are slow and my one great fear is that he will get away I will take Edith back and try and make a good girl out of her She is a mere child and doesn't realize what she has done.'

Mrs Armstrong was up at 2 o'clock in the morning working in the bakery She said that she was forced to do this as her husband had left her penniless and from now on she will be forced to support herself and her two boys Before he eloped Saturday night, Armstrong turned all his belongings into cash and took considerable currency with him.

"He even left me to pay last month's bills," said the deserted wife. "He had no real estate that I know of, nor a bank account Everything he owned was in currency and that has gone with him How much he has been giving this girl I don't know but I know he always loaded her up with food to take home nights"

Daughter Laden

Mrs. Silberhorn said that her suspicions had been aroused several weeks ago, but she did not think her daughter would really do wrong. The girl had brought home a gold watch, chain, two rings and four pairs of gloves, which she declared, had been given to her by Arthur House, a traveling salesman "House" proved to be Armstrong.

"Mrs Armstrong told me yesterday that she had seen her husband caress my daughter," said Mrs Silberhorn "It seems to me that she should have reported this to me. Had she done so all this trouble could have been avoided. I once asked my husband to watch Edith but he had so much faith in her that he refused. The girl was the pet of the household and I am heartbroken '

Mrs. Silberhorn believes that Armstrong intends to wait until his wife obtains a divorce and then marry her daughter Mrs. Armstrong will not get a divorce she says for this very reason She said with grim humor that her husband was over forty and too old to marry again

NEVER BE 'SNIPPY' IF YOU WANT To Be Popular With Women

MILWAUKEE— A girl once remarked to a young matron that she was always unpopular with women, though she made friends with men and retained their friendship without any effort "Will you be angry if I tell you why you are not popular with women?" the matron asked When the girl said that she would gladly learn the secret, she was told that she never made 'snippy' remarks to men that she was always sweet, gracious and lovely whereas she never lost an opportunity to elevate her eyebrows in a very uncomplimentary way when a new feminine hat was displayed she evasively avoided ever telling any girl she was prettily gowned and she was never known to thank a hostess for an evening's entertainment.

"The truth is, my dear," remarked the matron "you are careful to be very sweet with men, but you never fail to wound the feelings of the young women with whom you are placed," "But I dislike gushing" responded the crestfallen girl 'And women dislike your 'snippy' ways and always will

"Until you learn to be sweet and gracious with them, interested in their pursuits as well as your own, you cannot hope to have many real girl friends"

If all girls could have a matron friend who proved candid enough to point out faults, possibly more girls would have a larger list of women friends.

She Weighs 300 Pounds, Yet Jumps the Rope

SHENANDOAH, Pa —Although she is only twenty-five years old and several inches shy of being six feet, Mrs Veronica Olgun tips the scales at a trifle over 300 pounds. In an effort to reduce her weight she has taken to skipping rope, which was her favorite exercise in her early girlhood days. She says there is nothing like it for getting rid of excess fat.

"Since I began the exercise a week ago," she said "I have lost eight pounds, my breathing has improved and I scored a century today without a trip and at the end felt fresh enough to skip more. Do you know, I think I am the champion heavyweight rope jumper in the State, and will jump any woman in Pennsylvania weighing one hundred pounds less than me."

Pittsburg Swelldom Lampooned in Novel

PITTSBURG —Fash nable Pittsburg, from Sewickley Height to the Allegheny Country Club has be thrown into a state of hysterical ex citement by John Reed Scott's new nove "The Woman of Mystery," which it is announced will go on sale at local boo stores Tuesday The novel is said to nmercifully lampoon the newly rich i so thinly veiled a manner that the id ntities of several wealthy residents are adily recognized Dealers do not deny th t they have been asked to keep the boo off their shelves

Scott, while a memb r of a law firm here some years ago joined several fashionable clubs, and is now charged that he did this for th purpose of gathering data for his ovel Naturally, club folk are greatly upset and distraught. Whether this was Scott's purpose in entering the c bs is a question, but it is certain from the advance notices printed of the rk that he obtained material some here, and social Pittsburg is shivering n its boots

Several of the incidents mentioned have been recognized by club people, although their names do not appear in the text. Both the Sewickley colony and the Alleghany Country Club are named, and it is not difficult to divine the identities of the characters the author employs One of the strong scenes concerns a local heiress who leads the scion of a Chicago family to the point of proposing marriage only to refuse him because she had heard he had openly declared that both she and her money were his for the asking.

While Scott calls the man Landor and the heiress Hilde Gordon, Pittsburg people see in the characters John Cudahy, Jr, son of the Chicago pork packer, and Miss Isobel Pontefract, who jilted him two years ago under circumstances strikingly similar

It is understood that the booksellers will come to some agreement tomorrow concerning the sale of the novel If the rich Pittsburgers have their way no copies will be disposed of.

Heiress to $400,000 Says SHE'S DESTITUTE

NEW YORK —Compl ning that she is almost destitute, thou h she was left $400,000 by her husb d, Mrs. Anna Hachemeister, widow Henry Hachemeister once one of e the heaviest stockholders in George Ringler & Co., brewers, has brought uit in the Surrogate's Court to com el William G Ringler, president of e brewery concern, to account to her and pay her the income that has accru l since January 1 last. Ringler is e executor of Hachemeister's estate

In her complaints M s. Hachemeister says that unless she provided with funds immediately she ill have to close her large house at ttenville, S I Tradesmen have pres ed bills she is unable to pay, she all es, and though she is entitled to an i ome of $40,000 a year by the terms of h husband's will, she has no money to et her immediate needs

When the case came p before Surrogate Cohalan yesterd the executor said that he had been bliged to expend large sums for improve ents on the real estate of the widow, a l that her husband left many debts w ich he was trying to pay off. He said that by the terms of the will he was not obliged to give Mrs. Hachemeister any more money until the semi-annual installment is due. That will be on June 1, he said.

Ringler explained to Surrogate Cohalan that since he took charge of the estate he had paid to Mrs Hachemeister $36,000 in semi-annual instalments, and that in addition he had given her son, Frederick Hachemeister, $50 a month

Mrs Hachemeister contends that it was her husband's wish that she should live in the same style as she lived in his lifetime, and that she should keep up the house in Tottenville She alleges that Ringler is paying off debts which she does not acknowledge as valid

The widow wants Ringler to pay her $750 monthly and the balance of the income in semi-annual instalments

Mr Ringler assured the Surrogate that he would account for every penny he had handled and would do so as soon as he could Accepting his promise Surrogate Cohalan adjourned the hearing until the executor could put in a statement

Let Woman Have All of Her Independence and Not Make Her HYPOCRITICAL

Professor Zueblin is t satisfied with the present status of oman He does not like woman to be regarded as "a cross between an ange and an idiot." He does not believe wo en ought to be forced to marry in orde to have food on the table, and he thinks he present condition intolerable bec use a woman's whole life is spent in rying to please a man.

The worst thing about matters as they stand, according to P ofessor Zueblin, is that it makes wo en hypocrites Woman gets things by direction She goes through her husban s pockets while he is asleep as a sober American judge has told her that she h a right to do She fools him compl ely during the "courting illusion," and ho pleases him and furthers his intere in ways that are too subtle for his dull, masculine intelligence to grasp. In short, woman is a hypocrite, and will remain a hypocrite until she earns her own living and casts her own vote.

Even then, we hope, a little of woman's hypocrisy will still remain. What every woman knows is that she can help the man she loves by not letting him see that she is helping him, and we men, while we sometimes guess what she is doing, are perhaps better off by not quite knowing. Let woman have her economic independence, let her run automobiles, and build bridges, and perform surgical operations, and cast votes, and run for office (and get them), and do everything else once held masculine except grow beards—but do not let her stop fooling us.

Mrs. Ide Has Some Original, If Not New, Forms of Reforms

CHICAGO —The speed disappearance of wife beaters, home deserters and truants and the alleviat on of some of the injustices of the pres t penal system are the objects aimed a in an idea being worked out by Mrs Mary E Ide, 1538 Kenmore avenue, a member of the North End Woman's C b and of the League of Cook County Clubs, who is busily engaged in devel ing the details of his scheme and enlist g others in its support Mrs Ide has l g seen a great injustice in the modern n on, in that the heaviest burden entailed y the sentencing a criminal to a rm behind the bars falls often not on e culprit himself but on his family

The man goes to jail e may or may not be put at hard labor But his family is left out in the worl and must shift for itself "Why, I hav even heard of criminal husbands," said Mrs Ide in explaining her plans, "who old their wives in submission by the th eat that they would go to jail for a rest and leave them without any support at all" The gist of the proposed plan is this: Let the criminal, when sent to jail, be put at his trade or labor and paid a regular union wage.

Then let his board and lodging be deducted, and the balance sent to his family, so leaving the burdens of a jail sentence to fall where they are intended to fall To carry out the plan it would be necessary, according to the originator, to change the prisons about so as to give them less of the present day aspect of "houses of correction," and to give them more of the nature of "houses of trades."

Mrs Ide would prefer that they be made in reality colonies or virtual little towns, with all sorts of factories and industries, and opportunities to put each man to work at the trade or labor for which he is most fitted. If he is not fitted for any, let him learn one and go to work

HUSBAND CONFESSES TO BIGAMY, BUT SECOND WIFE REMAINS TRUE

DRIVES WIFE AND LOVER OUT OF HOTEL

PLAYS AT DETECTIVE AND GETS DIVORCE

Woman Admitted Her Guilt to Him, Declares Husband to Court

As a result of his wife's love for Frank Nash of the People's Express Company Henry A. Ross a master barber has just secured a final decree of divorce in the superior Court from Birdie B. Ross. The couple were married at San Diego in June 1899 and the issue of the union is a baby girl which is given into the custody of the father.

According to the testimony given by Ross on the night of March 19 1908 with the assistance of Private Detective J. J. Manning whom he had detailed on the case he ran his wife and Nash to cover and caught them together under such circumstances as to preclude any doubt about their guilty relations.

Heard Her at Phone

It was about three weeks before the night in question that Ross made a discovery that convinced him that his wife and Nash were holding clandestine meetings. He kept close watch on his wife after that and on the evening of March 19 while walking around the side of the house in which they were living he heard someone at the telephone and stepped up to the side door and listened. He heard his wife say over the phone "Is that you Frank. I am leaving the house now and will kill time on the street until 9 30. Goodbye sweetheart."

Right then and there Ross converted himself into a sleuth. Instead of jumping in and kicking up a row as most men would have done under the circumstances Ross kept cool and decided to run his quarry to cover so to make doubly sure that Mrs. Ross would not escape him when she left the house a few minutes after 8 o'clock never suspecting the presence of her husband. Ross followed her to the corner of Linden and Sixteenth streets where she boarded a Sixteenth street car going down town. Then he went on to Twelfth and Chestnut streets and boarded an uptown car that soon landed him at the offices of the Manning Detective Agency where a few moments later he was in consultation with Manning.

Something Stirring

It was arranged between the husband and Manning that the latter should return home and await developments there while the detective shadowed the offices of the People's Express Company at 407 Twelfth street to get a line on Nash's movements. About 9 10 o'clock Ross heard from Manning over the phone. The detective told him to go immediately to the corner of Twelfth and Franklin streets, that there was something stirring in that locality. Ross telephoned to John Reining of 946 Jefferson street an intimate friend to meet him at the streets indicated to be a witness to what developed and then he went to join the detective.

Active operations were then begun. The detective led him to the Webber House where he had located Nash and Mrs. Ross in a room together. The guilty pair entered the hotel about 10 20 o'clock and remained there until after 1. As Mrs. Ross was leaving the house by the side entrance she was confronted by her husband. The latter had informed the landlord of what was going on and he ordered Nash and the woman into the street. As soon as the latter reached the street she started to run but her husband grabbed her forgetting all about Nash for the moment, and caring less what became of him.

On the way home Mrs. Ross confessed everything to her husband. Ross testified admitting that she had been holding frequent meetings with Nash for a period of about three months.

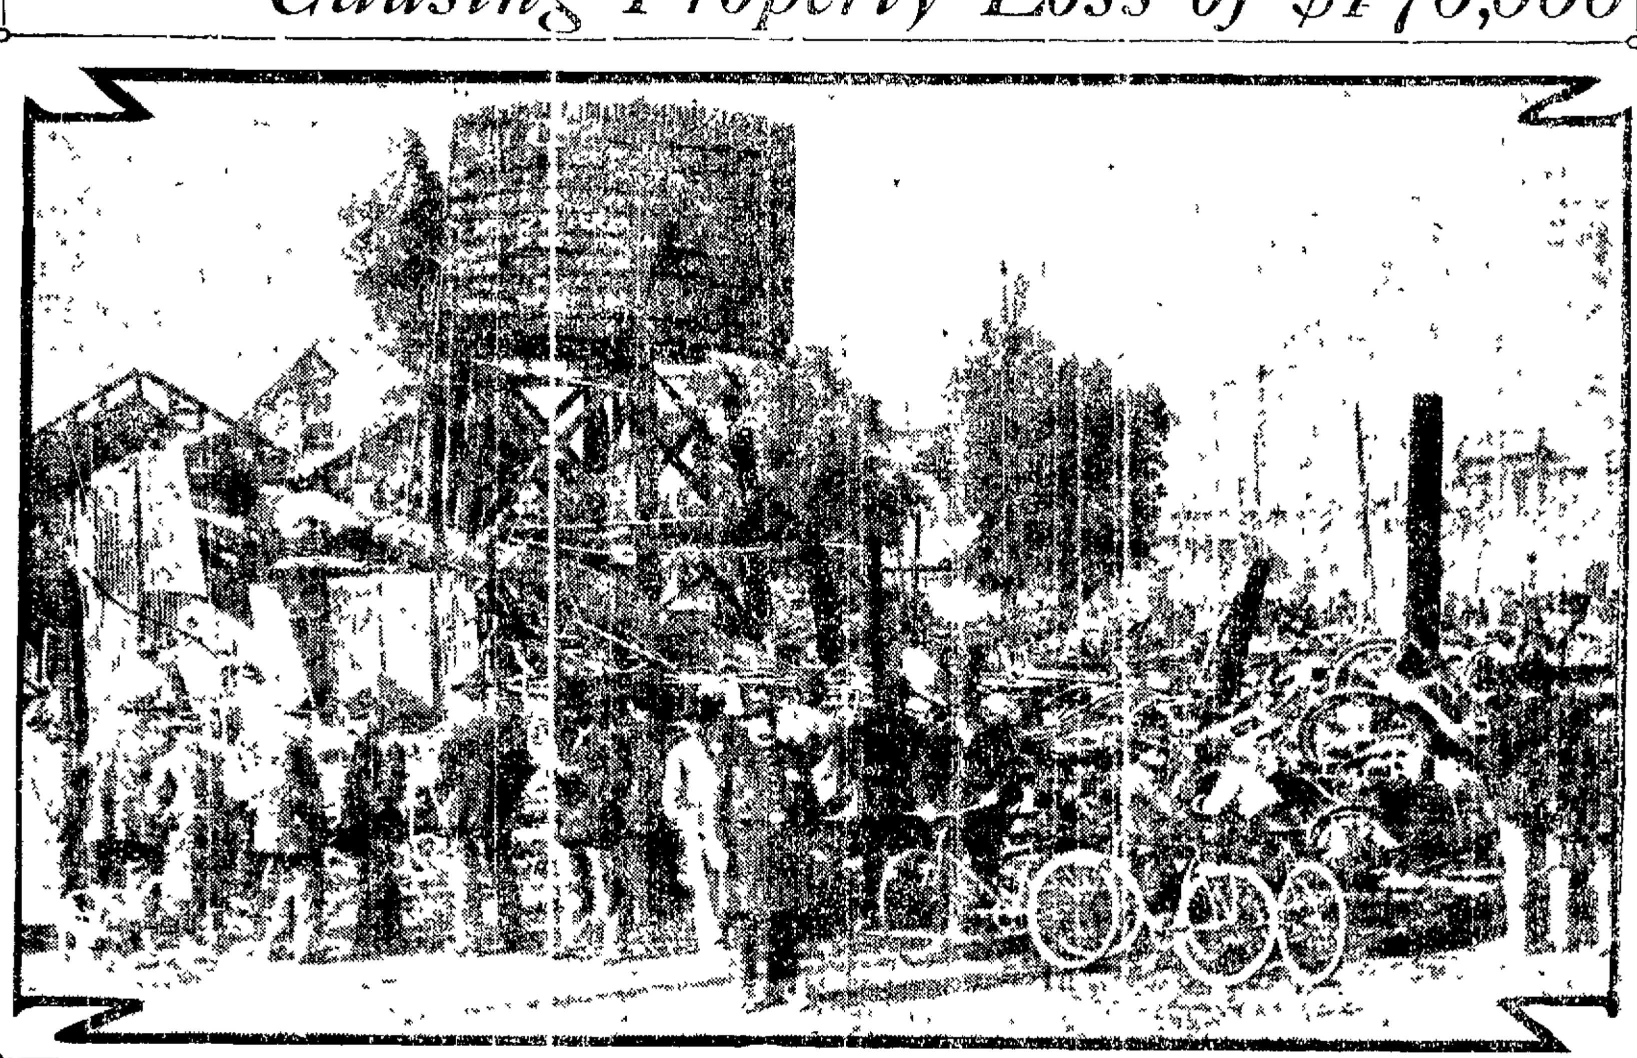
Flames Destroy Entire City Block Causing Property Loss of $176,000



Photograph Shows Some of the Damage Done by Fire at Third and Franklin Streets Late Last Night.

Fire last night destroyed property valued at $176,000 in the block bounded by Webster, Second, Third and Franklin streets. The blaze which for a time assumed the proportions of a conflagration had its origin in the West Coast Rough Dry Laundry, 3?3 Franklin street. It had been burning probably from a half to three quarters of an hour before an alarm was turned in. When the department arrived on the scene the blaze was lighting up the sky for twenty blocks. A general alarm was turned in and every available piece of fire fighting apparatus was brought into play.

The principal losses are:

Oakland Gas Engine Works	$60 000
Stanley Airship Company	40 000
West Coast Rough Dry Laundry	10 000
Reynold & Kuchner's Office Fixture Store	8 000
Erbs Wagon Works	3 000
W. B. Finney's Horseshoeing Shop	1 000
Sat Bucks Cigar Manufactory	42 000
Six cottages occupied by Chinese	4 500
Street sweeper belonging to Chas Butler	8 000

Gasoline Explodes

The fire undoubtedly started from the explosion of a gasoline tank in the [illegible] of the laundry. Once the liquid was free it burned furiously and the entire block was ablaze within a few moments. For a time it looked as though the flames would sweep northward over Third street and possibly destroy the numerous wooden buildings between Third and Seventh streets. A brick wall however assisted materially in preventing the flames from spreading. Fire Chief Ball and McDonald realized the necessity of guarding the houses on the north side of Third street and did so effectively by concentrating four streams of water on the structures.

Not a wall was left standing in the destroyed block. It was 6 o'clock this morning before the fire fighters had the blaze completely out. The danger was passed however about an hour after the fire department arrived.

Plenty of Water

The heavens were illumined to such an extent that thousands of persons got out of bed to witness the spectacle.

Fire Chief Ball denies the report that the reason the fire gained such headway was because of lack of water. He says:

There was plenty of water at all times. The fire gained headway because it had been burning a full hour or more before an alarm was turned in. When we left this morning there was 80 pounds pressure in the hydrants. This showed that at all times there was no lack of water.

COL. BIDDLE FAVORS GOVERNMENT OWNING DREDGE ON ESTUARY

Army Engineer Declares There Would Be Much Saving in Cost If U. S. Ran Own Machine.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce is today in receipt of two letters from Washington which are of great interest to this section. About a month ago the Harbor Committee reported to the Board of Directors requesting that resolutions be passed asking the United States Government to build a dredge for use in and around San Francisco bay. By reason of the Government owning a dredge work could be made continuous in dredging Oakland harbor.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce received from Senator Perkins the following copy of a letter from Chief Engineer Marshall U. S. A. containing the copy of a report made by Lieut. Col. Biddle, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A.

May 20 1909

Hon. Geo. C. Perkins
United States Senate

Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipts of your letter dated April 28 1909 inclosing a resolution of the Oakland California Chamber of Commerce petitioning that the United States Government build a dredge for use in and around San Francisco Bay and to [illegible] for your information a copy of a report on the subject dated the 11th instant by Lieutenant Colonel John Biddle, Corps of Engineers.

Very respectfully
(Signed) S. J. MARSHALL
Chief of Engineers U. S. A.
May 11 1909

Respectfully returned to the Chief of Engineers U. S. Army.

In my opinion it would be to the interests of the United States to obtain a dredge for work on Oakland Harbor and other parts on San Francisco Bay. I have suggested this in communications of August 19 19[illegible] and January 28 1909 in forwarding bids for dredging in Oakland harbor. It is thought that with a dredge owned by the United States savings could be effected as there are but few private suction dredges in this vicinity and the price paid in the latest contract 9 [illegible] cubic yard is high. Moreover the dredge would be always available for maintenance and for work needed without delay.

The estimate to complete the project of Oakland harbor is about $500,000 and if this were appropriated it has been my intention to recommend the construction of a dredge by the United States. There are no funds at present available for the purpose.

MASHER GIVEN BAD THRASHING

Col. "Bill" Thompson Rescues Rose Coghlan From Annoying Stranger

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—Miss Rose Coghlan leading woman for John Drew was the heroine of an exciting incident yesterday afternoon when she was accosted by a "masher" near the St. James Hotel on Van Ness avenue and was quickly avenged by Colonel "Bill" Thompson the wealthy and well known club man.

Miss Coghlan was alone. She had just left the Van Ness theater where she is playing when a well dressed stranger accosted her. Angered the actress tried to pass on when the man again spoke to her. Then Colonel Thompson who was a witness of the scene rushed to the rescue. With a few well directed blows he thoroughly discomfited the would-be masher and turning hastened down the street before Miss Coghlan who is not acquainted with him, could thank him for the service.

The masher after his thorough beating vanished down an alleyway and his identity has not been learned.

SCHOOL GIRL IS MISSING FOR THREE DAYS

Fear She Has Lost Way in Foothills of Los Angeles Suburb

FAIL TO FIND TRACE OF MISSING CHILD

Little One Thought to Have Taken Money From Mother to Make Trip

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—The police have been asked to search for Ida Neill the ten year old daughter of Mrs. Flora O'Neill of this city. The girl started for school three days ago but since that time no trace of her has been found.

The only theory advanced is that she [illegible] The girl's mother can [illegible] has gone to Alta [illegible]. STEAMER COLLIDES WITH SAILING SHIP

VICTORIA, May 27.—The steamer Suverie of the Weir line was in collision on her outward voyage to Manila and way ports according to advices received today on the Aki Maru. The Suverie ran into the Japanese sailing ship Yoshiyama Maru off the coast of Japan not far from Shimonoseki at the southern entrance to the Inland Sea of Japan.

The Yoshiyama Maru sank quickly after the Suverie had rammed her and amid intense excitement the boats of the Suverie were quickly put out and the seamen of the sunken vessel rescued from the water. The sailing vessel was laden with a cargo and was bound for Kobe.

ROMANCE OF TROPICAL SEAS IS ENDED

Bride-to-Be Transfers Her Affection to Another; He's Arrested

MOONLIGHT FIGURES IN THIS AFFAIR

Sails From San Francisco Only Results in Trouble

HONOLULU, May 27.—R. W. Baker, who was arrested here last Monday on a charge of bigamy on cabled instruction by the United States Marshal at Chicago, confessed his guilt today. His latest wife, however, whom he married here on May 11, and whose name at the time was Mrs. Eva B Wallace, remains steadfast, declaring that her faith in Baker is unshaken by his arrest.

A romance of the tropical seas underlies this second marriage of Baker, who is believed to be the son of Charles W. Baker secretary of the Chicago Live Stock Exchange. Baker arrived in Honolulu from San Francisco about May 1 on the steamship Alameda.

One of his fellow travelers on the Alameda was Mrs. Wallace a San Francisco woman en route to Honolulu to marry Charles Howard a former San Francisco resident in the Hawaiian capital. It appears that the moonlight in the southern seas coupled with the proximity of Baker proved too much for Mrs. Wallace's constancy to Howard and the result was that when the good ship arrived at Honolulu Howard found himself minus his expected bride, Mrs. Wallace having transferred her affections to Baker.

Baker it is charged has another wife and a child in Chicago.

Allen Wants to Grab the Treasurership; Goo-Goo Machine Kicks

BOSS EARL WEBB FLEES TO THE MOUNTAINS TO AVOID OFFICE SEEKERS

Hodgehead Inclined to Move Cautiously, But Other Faction Want "All the Rascals Turned Out."

BERKELEY, May 27.—There is discord in the ranks of the Goo-Goos over the distribution of offices. That eminent publicist and purist, Lyman Allen, has locked strength with Earl H. Webb, the big boss, in an endeavor to have a clean sweep of the town hall. Allen wants 'all the rascals turned out,' while Webb, with greater sagacity, is for conservative methods, and, realizing that the success of his control of the administration depends upon efficiency of these officials, wants no drastic move made.

Allen spent yesterday in the town hall securing a list of all the positions and the salaries paid every man on the municipal payroll from Auditor Hanscom. Armed with this information, he went into session with the camp followers of the Goo-Goo machine, practically all of whom are anxious to get their turn at the business of drawing public money. The result of this conference is not known, except that Allen persisted in his claims to be town treasurer and Louis F. Overstreet to be either chief of police or fire chief.

Worries the "Higher-ups"

Allen's activity is worrying the Goo-Goo higher-ups. They regard his actions as pestiferous and would sidetrack him if anybody could point the way. Mayor Hodgehead has been asked to interfere, but Allen refuses to be squelched. He was one of the most active of the smaller bosses, and now that it is meal time, he wants to get his feet under the table.

Allen is a man of some fortune and of long political training. He has for years been a shouter for good government, which in the present instance, much to the sorrow of Boss Webb and the Tennis machine cabinet, means Allen government stripped of all preface. Allen wants a job. He prefers the town treasurership, which is worth $150 a month and he refuses to be placated with promises or empty honors.

Cutting Down Jobs

There is a rumor on the street that Mayor-elect Hodgehead has given orders that in view of the financial troubles awaiting the new administration, there must be as few jobs allotted as possible and has suggested that the commissioner of revenue and taxation act as his own treasurer and hire a clerk to do the routine work. This is not to the liking of the 'faithful' job chasers of the machine. Allen and Overstreet worked during the recent campaign. Both were card distributors and bill posters and incidentally both were discovered handing out appeals for votes which did not contain the name of R. A. Berry for commissioner although Berry was endorsed by the Webb machine. This little peccadillo has been a sore spot with Berry, and Hodgehead does not approve of it, therefore the road is not as smooth as Allen would like it for himself and his confrere Overstreet.

Visits Incinerator Site

Mayor-elect Hodgehead and commissioners-elect McClure and Berry were taken in an automobile by Trustee Gomperts this morning to the prospective site for an incinerator at the foot of Camelia street. This garbage question promises to be just as troublesome to the incoming government as it was to the outgoing. Hodgehead, it is understood, is inclined to conclude that the purchase of this land must be consummated as the readiest way out of a pressing difficulty and bonds issued for the construction of a garbage destructor upon it. But this course will be a tacit approval of the policy of Mayor [illegible] and the Goo-Goos with their campaign cry of good government ringing still in the ears of the people are loath to assume a position that puts them in a hypocritical role. But the garbage question must be settled one way or the other at once. This was a part of the campaign oratory of the Webb ticket and Hodgehead has received orders that some definite policy must be pursued.

All Want a Slice

The applications for jobs from the faithful exceeds even the expectations. Commissioners Berry and McClure are besieged daily by dozens of people with long stories of how they worked for the cause of Webb good government and their lives are made miserable with the importunings of friends bespeaking a good word for some other friend. Commissioner-elect Norton is free of this annoyance as he is in the east attending the bedside of a sick mother and Commissioner-elect Hoff goes to San Francisco every morning to attend to his custom shoe business.

The town hall is crowded daily with hungry face contemplating a berth on the public payroll. So persistent and energetic has this colony become that Boss Earl H. Webb has fled to the mountains in the hopes that it will expend itself on some of the smaller fry before the time for the new officeholders to take up their work comes around.

BURIED BENEATH PALL OF FLOWERS

Friends and Schoolmates Attend Sad Funeral of William Welch

ALAMEDA, May 27.—The remains of William Welch were buried beneath a pall of beautiful flowers in St. Mary's Cemetery this morning at 9:30 o'clock. The sorrow and sympathy of the boy's many friends and schoolmates were evidenced by the floral offerings that covered his resting place in the cemetery. Among the most beautiful of the tributes were those from the Alameda high school and the Phoenix Athletic Club. The former was a large wreath of pink rosebuds and sweetpeas, with long ribbon streamers. The athletic club sent a broken wheel of carnations and roses.

Other large pieces included a wreath from Dr. George C. Thompson of the high school, a beautiful spray from the high school faculty, a large wreath from the high school associates including Willis Minium, the dead boy's instructor, Illsworth Carr, Louis Osterdock, Elbert Clintsman, William Dunlop and Winthrop Branchfield. Other beautiful pieces were sent by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minn, Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop, Winthrop Branchfield, Mr. and Mrs. George Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Boehmer, Chief John Conrad of the police department, Policeman James McDonald, C. Roesler, an uncle of the deceased, and offerings from the immediate family.

Besides the large floral pieces lovely sprays covered the boy's casket and his grave is a bed of exquisite flowers.

The pallbearers were Charles Baum, Byard Sharp, Edwin Anthony, Maurice Kebby, Philip Wiggin and Alfred Geldermann. The services were held from St. Joseph's Church, Rev. Father Foley officiating.

He will remain in Berkeley for some weeks and probably seek an engagement with an opera company.

MANIAC CREATES PANIC IN BANK

Lunatic Threatens to Blow Up Institution if He Isn't Given $50,000

REDWOOD, Cal., May 27.—An escaped lunatic from the state asylum at Agnews created a panic in the Redwood Bank of this city by rushing in just before closing time yesterday and threatening to drop a bomb powerful enough to wreck the building if $50,000 were not instantly forthcoming.

The bank was crowded with people who scattered wildly for the street upon the stranger's advent. Cashier L. P. Behrens, temporizing for time until officers could be sent for, stepped from his wire cage and engaged the maniac in conversation.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Lorton reached the bank five minutes later and the stranger was placed under arrest.

When he was searched at the city prison no weapon or bomb was found on his person, but it was discovered the man had on an asylum uniform under his baggy outer garments. He was returned to Agnews today.

GOOD ROADS IN NORTH CAROLINA

Mecklenburg county furnishes a splendid field for a study of the benefits that are to be derived from the construction of good roads. One of the two banner good roads counties of the South with 200 miles of the finest macadam highway, Mecklenburg county is more than satisfied with the returns which it has received from the $700,000 which she has invested in road building.

It is declared that lands in the vicinity of Charlotte which sold for $8 and $10 an acre twenty years ago when the building of the good roads began are now selling all the way from $100 to $1000 an acre. Only a part of these increases of course can be attributed to the good roads, but the effect of the latter is shown by the fact that there has been a much greater relative increase in the values of lands on or near the improved roads than in the lands which are as advantageously situated in every respect except that they are not near the improved roads.—Charlotte, N. C., Letter in the Arkansas Gazette, Little Rock.

Splendid Support Is Accorded Project By the Merchants of Alameda

ALAMEDA, May 27.—A monster parade is in the course of preparation for the Fourth of July celebration to be held in Alameda on the anniversary of the nation's birth. Floats from the business houses and lodges will be decorated and prizes will be offered for the best in each section.

Arrangements are being perfected by Dr. George C. Thompson, principal of the high school, to have 2000 school children in line and today Dr. Thompson announced that there is little doubt of accomplishing this feat. Dr. Thompson will act as marshal of the school division.

The aquatic sports will be one of the features of the day's entertainment. The yachts of the Aeolian and Encinal clubs will participate and in the evening they will be decorated with lights.

Many Athletic Events

Athletic contests are to be held at Lincoln Park. Secretary Ralph A. Russell of the Chamber of Commerce, who is taking a leading part in the promotion of the day's events, is most optimistic. He says:

The merchants are taking hold of the project with a vim and we are receiving grand support. Thousands of people from about the bay will undoubtedly take advantage of the holiday and visit Alameda. Ample provision will be made for their accommodation and as this is the first time in the history of Alameda that such a celebration has been held on so grand a scale we are looking forward to an event which will go down in the history of the city as one long to be remembered.

DOWN COME TRINITY'S RICKETY TENEMENTS

Dust Flying in Old Greenwich Village--Plans Filed for Modern Buildings

NEW YORK, May 27.—There is rejoicing in old Greenwich village for Trinity's dilapidated tenements are coming down. Residents of that section have at last won their long fight against Trinity Corporation, whose rickety old buildings have been a detriment to real estate values.

Architects for the church corporation filed plans with Building Superintendent Murphy for an eight story modern fireproof loft building on the Hudson street block from Vandam to Charlton street, to cost $500,000, and for a five story modern storage warehouse at the northeast corner of Spring and Greenwich streets to cost $100,000.

Down They Come

Workmen began tearing down the two and three story and attic brick and frame houses that occupy the Hudson street block on the east side of the way, and which extend 100 feet east along the Charlton and Vandam streets.

On the Hudson street block all tenants have moved away except Leonardo Falbo, who has had a barber shop at No. 336 Hudson street twenty five years. Everybody was told to get out by May 1, but Falbo pleaded so hard to be allowed to stay an extra week that his request was granted.

When workmen started to tear down the house next to the barber shop yesterday, one of Falbo's assistants thought the shop was going to cave in. He ran out into the street yelling. Patrolman Manion asked him what the trouble was.

"They're tearing down our shop!" he exclaimed.

Manion accompanied the barber back to the little store. He found that David Wasserman of No. 2295 Second avenue, had a permit to tear down all the buildings on the block and said he couldn't interfere. Wasserman said he wouldn't touch Falbo's place for another day.

Mrs. Mary Harrington, who has lived at No. 46 Charlton street thirty years, and whose mother lived there many years before that, will be the last tenant to leave the row of houses on that street.

An official of Trinity Corporation said these improvements are the initial steps in the far reaching plans Trinity has in regard to its property holdings.

INTERNATIONAL MARRIAGE WAS A LARGE AFFAIR

Another international marriage uniting a well known New York family with one of the oldest families of Paris was celebrated Tuesday when Mrs. Robert T. P. Fiske, daughter of Mrs. Henry Wisner Miller of New Brighton, Staten Island, became the bride of Count Lionel de Montesquiou-Fezensac in St. Peter's Roman Catholic church, New Brighton. A low nuptial mass preceded the ceremony, during which the couple knelt on a prie dieu in front of the altar.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. G. Clinton Miller. The best man was Count Gaston de Montesquiou-Fezensac, a brother of the bridegroom. The latter wore the uniform of captain of the One Hundred and Fifty-eighth infantry, French army, to which he is attached.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother in Prospect street, New Brighton, and was attended by about twenty immediate relatives and friends. Prior to the breakfast there was an informal reception.

The couple left Thursday on the steamship Provence for France, where they will reside and where the bride's two children are being educated in a convent.

NEAR COMPOSER GETS CONWAY MAD

Band Started the De Brill Symphony and Leader Chased Composer

Can you imagine Patrick Conway, the genial leader of the big band which is delighting audiences afternoon and evening at Idora, getting mad — real mad? If you who have been convinced by his happy countenance that such is out of the question here is a receipt which, if followed closely will convince you of your error:

Get one large bottle of ink, a hotel pen, a ream of manuscript, a musical theme dealing with, say, "The Awakening of the Dewy Morn," and take it to Mr. Conway with the request that he try your composition during one of his concerts.

"Talk about your spring poets," said Conway in telling of the near composers, "why they can't hold a tallow-dip to the fellow who comes around with a roll of manuscript as big round as Idora's clown policeman and a request that you and your band 'try it out.' Never have I been able to countenance them since my experience of two years ago in Washington, D. C.

"There had been a persistent fellow named De Brill, bothering me for two weeks insisting that he had a symphony that was the finest thing since Bach. He was a decent sort of a chap in spite of his composition, and had a good knowledge of music. So, one day, when my librarian left on a vacation, I put De Brill to work distributing music. He seemed to enjoy his job and apparently forgot all about his symphony. But he hadn't.

"I shall never forget the night I stepped before our audience in Washington, for it was one of the most fashionable I have ever had the pleasure of greeting. De Brill had been flitting about among the musicians placing the parts of what I presumed was the overture from William Tell.

The De Brill Symphony

"Promptly on the minute for the opening of the program I mounted the director's stand and raised my baton. I know every bar of the William Tell number and without so much as glancing at my score I gave the downward beat. Well, of all the unearthly noises you ever heard, none could possibly equal the one that arose from the horn section of the band. And then, before I could gain my senses, the clarinets had set up a yelp like a bunch of poisoned pups with the tubas bawling like bulls.

"I gave one wild look at my men, thinking they were all stark mad and then my eyes fell upon the score in front of me. It was De Brill's symphony! I split my best baton stopping the thing and then made one wild dash for the wings and De Brill. But the fellow had gone to return no more. I never heard of him afterward, but whenever one of those near composers heave in sight I get mad all over again."

MARRIED, BUT HE ELOPES WITH GIRL

Young Woman's Father Has Former Californian Arrested For Bigamy

REDWOOD CITY, May 27.—Wife desertion, a second marriage with resulting bigamy, the abandonment of two beautiful little children and the melodramatic details of a search throughout the State were unfolded yesterday through the issue of a warrant for the arrest of V. A. McCreery, now a resident of Portland, Ore.

McCreery was in April, employed as a drug clerk in Redlands, working for a man named Goff. McCreery's wife and two children were living in Pasadena. McCreery persuaded Miss Mary White, the 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus White, to elope with him. They first went to Los Angeles, where McCreery had proposed they be married. On arriving at that point McCreery gave some pretext for postponing the ceremony and proposed that it take place in San Francisco.

Finally Marry

From San Francisco the young people made their way to Redwood City, where they secured a marriage license April 11 and were married by Justice James Hannon, both giving their places of residence as San Francisco.

Shortly after Miss White left the home of her father, who is a prominent retired merchant of Redlands, he heard rumors that McCreery was married and started a personal investigation.

"I had made no opposition to my daughter's acquaintance with McCreery, as he seemed to be a steady man," said Mr. White, "besides being of fine appearance and address. Shortly after they were married, however, I heard that McCreery had a wife living in Pasadena. I found McCreery's wife, who is highly connected, abandoned and alone with her two little children. She quickly convinced me that she was McCreery's lawful wife and that my daughter held no position at all."

Told of Perfidy

Then the scene switches to Oregon, where the second Mrs. McCreery was located. Notifying her through relatives of the perfidy of her supposed husband, the father was enabled to obtain for her the aid of his brother, Albert White of Chehalis, and his son-in-law and married daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Joy.

McCreery, in addition to his bigamy, is charged with being an unlicensed drug clerk and practitioner of medicine.

BURNS GETS MONEY BY ROUND ABOUT WAY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—The City Treasurer paid yesterday, with the approval of the Auditor, a demand for $3180 in favor of District Attorney Langdon and drawn, by direction of the court, against the special fee fund. The amount covers the District Attorney's special expenses and includes the money needed for the salaries of Detective Burns and his assistants, the payment of which, under the old plan of drawing warrants in their favor directly, has been stopped by injunction proceedings.

LOCKWOOD SCHOOL BAND TO PLAY AT CONCERT

The Men's Club of the First Free Baptist Church will give a musical and literary entertainment on Friday evening, May 28, at the church 681 Twenty-first street. The Lockwood school band, under the direction of C. H. Greenman, will furnish instrumental music. Miss Gola Fry will assist in the program by giving two readings. There will be two songs by the Sunday school choir and other interesting numbers.

Hay Loft and Scythe Form Decorations for Dining Room

ETHEL HEALEY.

Preparations have been completed for the "Old Original Barn Dance" to be given Friday night by the Young Men's Auxiliary in St. Anthony's hall, Sixteenth avenue and East Sixteenth street.

The committees in charge have been working energetically for the past two weeks and their efforts have resulted in a complete transformation of the hall. The appearance of an antique New England hay loft greets the eye on entering. The walls are decorated with instruments generally used in tilling the land. Colored lanterns suspended from overhead throw a soft glow on the primitive surroundings beneath. In contemplating the pleasant effect one would imagine himself transported a century or two back and a few thousand miles away.

One of those working for the success of the affair is Miss Ethel Healey, a prominent young woman of East Oakland.

Guests will come in their old clothes and undoubtedly the old bandana will be very much in evidence. An excellent orchestra has been engaged for the occasion, the tuneful strains of which will also be expressive of scenes of long ago.

SON'S PLEA SAVES FRUITVALE WOMAN

Deputy Constable Dave Sheehar Follows Wife and Fires Shot

SACRAMENTO, May 27.—While Deputy Constable Dave Sheehar of Alameda county stood before his wife, holding a revolver leveled for a second shot, the plea for his mother by a 5-year-old child probably saved her life. At the appeal he lowered the revolver and left the house.

Sheehar, who has been searching for his wife for several weeks, found her yesterday afternoon at a residence in the southern part of the city. Before she could reply to his request that she return to him, he pulled a pistol and fired.

As he raised the weapon for the second time, little Jack Sheehar flung himself about the knees of his father and cried, "Stop, papa," in time to save his father from a second attempt to kill his wife.

The attempt yesterday is said to be the sequel to many threats. For six years they have been married, and during that time Mrs. Sheehar says she has many times threatened to leave her husband if his conduct did not improve. Three weeks ago she took her three children from their home in Fruitvale and came to this city. Sheehar, it is said, has employed several persons to search for his wife, stating that he wished to make amends and persuade her to return to Fruitvale. It is believed Mrs. Sheehar will not take steps to have her husband punished but will request a divorce with sufficient alimony to support her children.

GOULD FAMILY TUTOR DIES IN POVERTY

NEW YORK, May 27.—Frank Gould has offered to pay the expenses of the funeral of Alma Woetsum, once his teacher, who is dead in her home at 93 West One Hundred and Third street, at the age of 75 years. She was formerly a private tutor in the Gould family, and traveled with Frank Gould as his teacher through Europe some twenty-two years ago.

Gould has not seen her for more than twenty years. When Colonel Harburger made an investigation after her death he found letters which were signed by Frank Gould. The letters were written in a childish hand and described various scenes in Egypt.

The old teacher was almost without funds at the time of her death, it is said.

THOMAS FLY-ABOUT, THE PRESENT HOLDER OF THE SAN FRANCISCO-LOS ANGELES RECORD.

(BY N. RAYMOND COOPER.)

Again the record from San Francisco to Los Angeles has been broken, this time by a 70 horse-power Thomas Flyabout and in the remarkable time of 16 hours and 45 minutes.

The fact that San Luis Obispo was reached in 6 hours and 55 minutes indicates that except for the delay caused by the arrest of the team at Santa Barbara better time would have been made than that of the fastest express train running between the two cities.

The record-breaking car containing Rene A. Brassey, the owner, Elmer Huber, driver, C. Cellert, a Diamond tire expert and K. L. Simpson of the Associated Press, left the northern city at 4 A. M. and arrived in Los Angeles at 8.45 p. m., making the trip practically in daylight.

The first record over this course was made in 1904 by W. B. Densmore in a Packard. His time was 53 hours. In 1905 Fred Jacobs in a Rambler cut the time to 31 hours and 35 minutes. The same year L. H. Nares in a Pope Toledo reduced the time to 24 hours and 53 minutes.

George Hensley later in the season established a mark of 21 hours and 12 minutes. In 1906 J. A. Lansberger in a 6 cylinder Franklin took 7 minutes off of this time but owing to an accident was forced to leave one of the crew at Gilroy and therefore held the record by protest until Fernando Nelson in his Columbia a few days later placed the record at 18 hours and 13 minutes. From then on till 1908 this mark remained, when Nelson again tried for his own record and lowered it to 17 hours and 17 minutes, which time has remained until last Sunday.

In securing this record Mr. Brassey is given possession of the Nelson cup, which will remain with him until some one else cuts down the elapsed time.

Next Sunday at 2 o'clock the second annual 24-hour endurance run of the San Francisco Automobile Dealers will start and continuously from then on to the same hour on the following day a constant grind will occur over the roads of Alameda county.

This contest is not in the form of a speed event, but simply to demonstrate that a motor car of the present day is capable of running constantly at an average speed of 20 miles per hour for a day and a night of continuous running.

As the entry lists do not close until tonight, it is impossible at this time to say how many machines will contest.

The start will be at East Fourteenth and High streets, and the route will pass through San Leandro, Mt. Eden, Alvarado, Centerville, Warm Springs, Mission San Jose, Niles, Hayward and thence back to the place of starting via the foothill boulevard.

When he arrived in Denver, George Meinzinger, driver of the E-M-F-Glidden Pathfinder, turned over to the Studebaker Company of that city the most expensive box of repair parts that concern has ever purchased. Not that the Studebakers paid for the parts all they had cost—not at all. But as they were all new and unsoiled they allowed Meinzinger the regular factory prices for them. The reason why these particular parts were expensive was because their value many times over had been paid in express bills.

It happened this way: Meinzinger had never done a trick of long distance driving before. So when Dai Lewis arrived in Detroit ready for the start, Meinzinger plied him with questions as to the troubles previous pathfinding cars had experienced and asked the veteran road scout to enumerate all the parts that might be expected to give out on so strenuous a drive and what spare parts should be carried. When Dai had finished his inventory of past accidents and breakages, George found the car was not big enough to hold all the spare parts that should be carried—if the E-M-F-"30" proved no better than her predecessors.

Accordingly a large box was secured and into it was packed gears, springs, valves and a hundred other parts. These were shipped by express to various points, only to be reshipped again when the party arrived until Denver was reached. Here the extras were disposed of.

Pathfinder Dai Lewis is now on the last leg of his rout-mapping journey for the Glidden tour contests. He is traveling eastward from Denver to Kansas City, the latter city being where the tour will disband. On the tour proper it will take four days to go from Denver to the finish, with night stops at Hugo, Col., Oakley, Kan., and Salina, Kan. Leaving Denver on Friday last, the pathfinders expected to reach Kansas City in just about a week, but much will depend upon the condition of the Kansas roads and the weather.

Going from Omaha to Denver will be practically a three-day hill climbing contest for the tourists, but returning from Denver to Kansas City is will be a four-day coast. The drop in altitude from Denver to Kansas City is 4489 feet, or about seven-eighths of a mile. The road mileage by the chosen route cannot be stated, of course, until after the pathfinding is completed, but the route follows closely the line of the Union Pacific railroad and the distance by rail is 640 miles. The second day out from Denver, going from Hugo to Oakley, there is a grand coast of 2046 feet, or nearly half a mile downward in about 160 miles. This gives an average grade of thirteen per cent and good braking will be at a premium. The next day, from Oakley to Salina, there is a drop of 1818 feet, but the distance is nearly 200 miles, so the average of grade is a little less than 10 per cent. These two are the big coasts, the final day offering only a drop of 482 feet in 190 miles.

Frank Fageol, the local agent for the Rambler, only smiles when told that money is tight. He don't believe it, for he has sold and delivered over $20,000 worth of autos in a week. He says the season will give him a total of at least 100 machines.

* * *

Mayor Frank K. Mott is the possessor of a new motor car this week. He received his new Rambler Wednesday and is wearing a contented smile.

* * *

Mrs. Hull McClaughry of Piedmont has purchased a new seven passenger Rambler touring car, in which she has had a number of pleasant rides this week. Mrs. McClaughry is a daughter of the late E. J. Baldwin.

* * *

According to Rene Brassey much of the success of the record breaking trip from San Francisco to Los Angeles was the result of Diamond tires. Although the speed maintained was terrific not one bit of the trouble was experienced.

* * *

R. S. Bosworth, agent for Jewel automobiles, took a party of friends, consisting of R. W. Martland, W. A. Aldrich, and State Printer W. W. Shannon and wife, on a trip through the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys last week. Most of the roads leading into Stockton, he says, are either washed out or under water, and they were compelled to take the road through San Joaquin city, Grayson, and over to Modesto, thence to Stockton, necessitating traveling 185 miles instead of 16. They also found, much to their inconvenience, that this is the particular time of the year the sheep men are moving their herds and they had to make their way through no less than seven droves. Notwithstanding the inconveniences they had a very enjoyable trip. The same party expect to make a trip to Fresno within the next few days.

The Pioneer Automobile Company report the sale of a four cylinder sixty horse power Thomas flyer to the Pacific Coast R. R. Advertising Company.

S. M. Phillips of Sacramento, accompanied by Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Green and Mr. and Mrs. M. Phillips of Honolulu have just had an exceptionally interesting, although hard trip, in Mr. Phillips' new Oldsmobile. The party visited the Santa Cruz mountains, spending the day at Villa Bergstead, which is situated at the highest point. The car worked splendidly and the enthusiastic motorist stated he would not take twice its cost for it, unless he was positive he could get an exact duplicate. Mr. Phillips will ship the car to Honolulu in the course of the next thirty days.

JAPANESE TRADE EXPERTS COMING

Delegation From Orient Will Visit All Principal Coast Cities

SEATTLE, Wash., May 27.—The steamer Minnesota will arrive at Seattle from Yokohama on September 2, bringing thirty of the principal business men and trade experts of Japan, their wives and families who will visit in a special train, every important manufacturing center east of the Rocky Mountains.

The visitors are to be guests of the associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast and will be entertained in each of the eight large cities of the coast, the northwest cities to be visited first and the departure for Japan to be taken from San Francisco.

The itinerary of the party is now being prepared by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, which is embarrassed by the eagerness of the Eastern cities to entertain the Japanese, for the time of the excursion is limited to the sixty days, beginning September 20. The Boston and New York Chambers of Commerce and the Pennsylvania railroad system promises elaborate hospitality. No manufacturing section will be slighted, even Maine being on the route.

President Taft and Secretary of State Knox are taking a personal interest in the visit of the Japanese as likely to promote a better understanding between the nations, and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel will assign five experts in different commercial lines to accompany the party.

MRS. WALSH WOULDN'T RESIDE IN NEWPORT

CHICAGO, May 27.—Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, wife of the Colorado mining millionaire, does not look kindly upon Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs' comment about exclusive society. Mrs. Walsh, with her husband and daughter, Evelyn, are on their way to their summer home, Wolhurst, near Denver.

"I would not live in Newport if that city were given to me," said Mrs. Walsh. The story that my husband intended to buy Rosecliff, Mrs. Oelrichs' home in Newport, is not true. He will never go back there—never. Society does not interest me. We have lots of friends in Washington and in New York as well as in Europe. We are satisfied with our friends. We are not seeking recognition in the '400.'"

GIRL MADE COLONEL IN SCHOOL MILITARY SYSTEM

FRUITVALE, May 27.—In an election held recently by pupils of the Dewey grammar school, the following officers were elected to take charge of the military system of the school: Thomas Woodcock, general; Miss Emma Hale, colonel of the third and fourth battalions, Frank Mora, colonel of the first and second battalions. The new officers will assume their duties the beginning of next term, and are being "broken in" by the present general, Earl Anderson, of the graduating class, who instigated the military system in the school and brought it to its present high stage of efficiency.

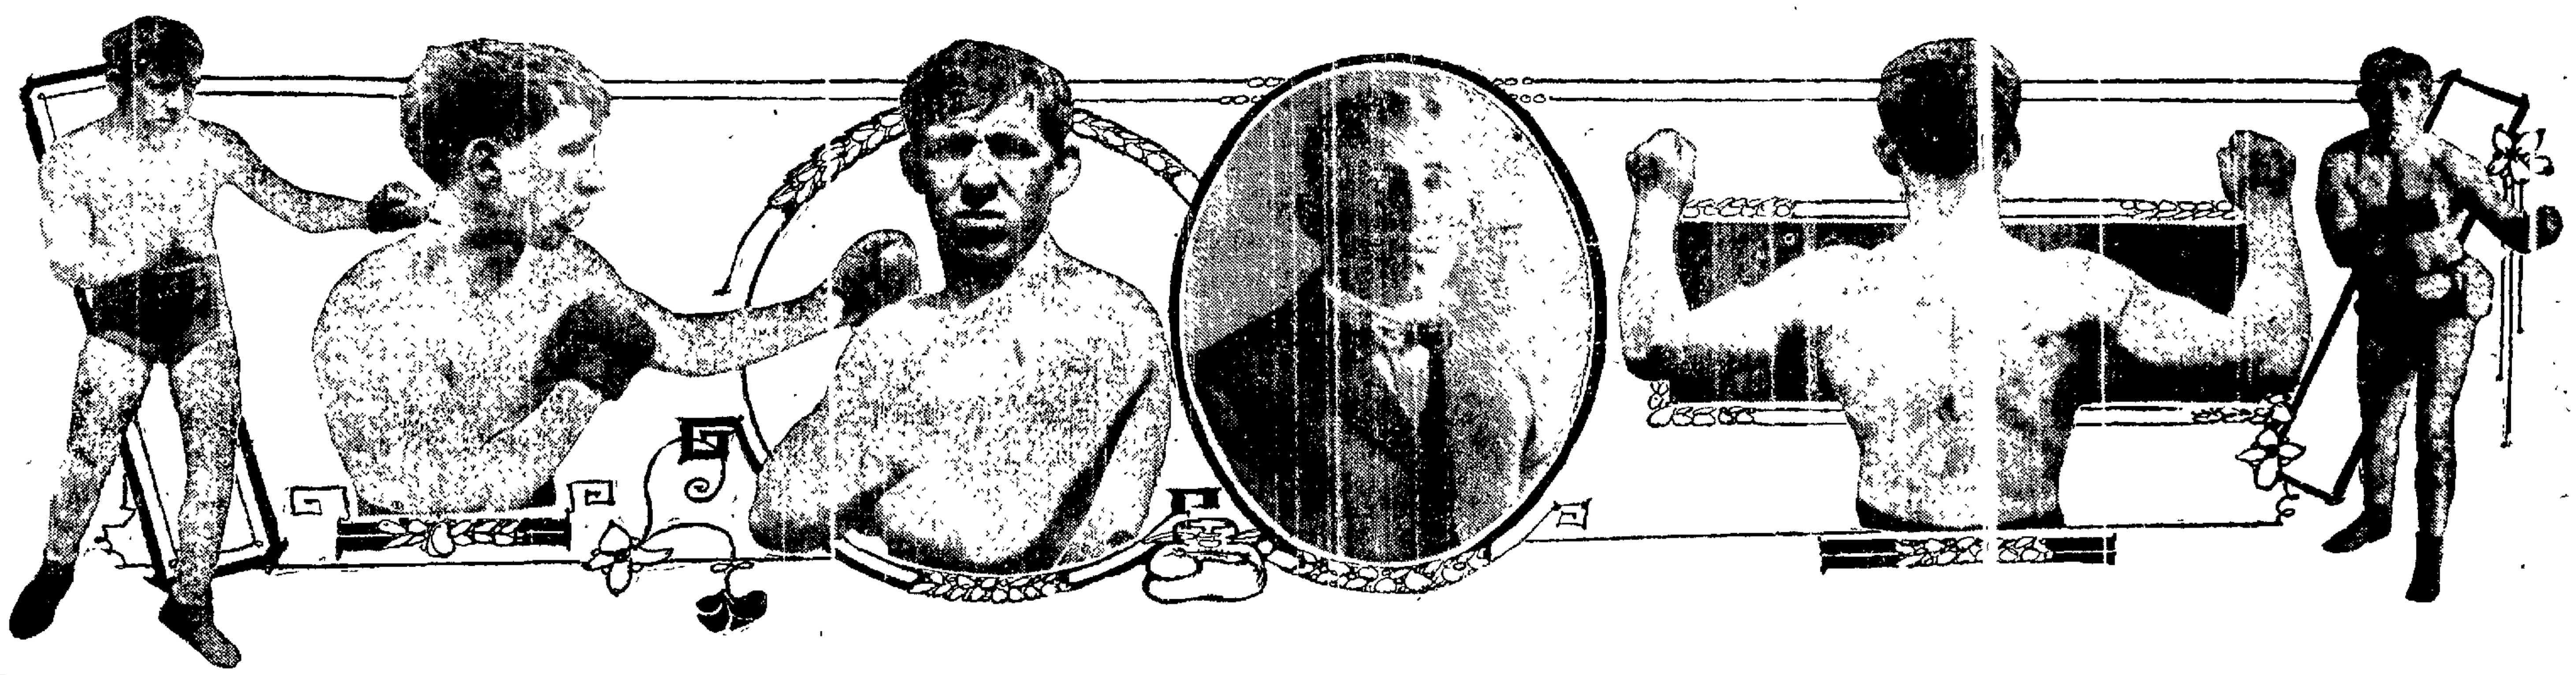
"FIGHTING DICK" HYLAND EXPECTS TO OUTLAST BAT NELSON



VARIOUS POSES OF THE FIGHTING CORNISHMAN, DICK HYLAND, SHOWING THE STURDY BUILD OF THE CHALLENGER, WHOSE LASTING POWER ARE SAID TO BE WONDERFUL.

FIGHTER WHO WILL NOT TIRE MAY TAKE HEART OUT OF DANE

Speculation as to How Nelson Would Feel Should He Meet Fighter Who Would Not Weaken as Others Have

By EDDIE SMITH.

WHILE watching Battling Nelson go through his training stunts the other day, a dyed-in-the-wool fan who was sitting at my side smiled at the manner in which the Dane kept constantly on top of his opponents and how he fought all the faster when they began to tire. The fan had evidently made a study of the champion, for he seemed to understand his methods and when he finally said: "I wonder how Nelson will feel if Hyland does not weaken during his coming battle as the other men he has met have?" he suggested a thought that is worth some consideration and may have much to do with the ultimate ending of the battle.

When Nelson enters the ring to fight, he does so prepared to take a beating during the early rounds of the battle but to keep right at his work until such time as he feels the other man gradually weakening from the effects of the punching he is receiving and the work that the Dane is forcing him to do.

Nelson has fought all the tough fighters of the lightweight division and he has felt each one of them weaken under the terrible pace he has set. In his first contest in San Francisco he plodded along with Martin Canole, one of the cleverest of the lightweights at the time, and although his chances looked hopeless during the early rounds, he came all the faster as the clever Martin began to tire.

Always Took Beating

He has done the same thing over and over again with every lightweight he has tackled. In every one of his important battles he has taken a lacing that it would seem impossible for a human begin to stand up under and during these severe ordeals he has been encouraged with the feeling that he would eventually weaken the opponent down and finish him, and when the time came for that weakening the Battler always took on extra steam and made the going all the faster.

Most of the Nelson victories have been of such character that they might well be likened to the victory of John Paul Jones when he lashed his ship to the Britishers and, in answer to the query "Do you surrender?" he replied: "Why, hell no, we've just begun to fight."

Jones at that moment, no doubt, knew that he had taken the heart out of the Englishmen and it would only be a matter of time before he would win the fight.

Nelson's Victories Sweet

Many times during a battle Nelson has been sent to his corner reeling and dizzy, but after the one minute of rest he would come up strong and with a dash, vicious enough to take the heart out of any fighter. He would come boring in for more of the medicine. His gameness and stamina have been wonderful during the trials and his triumphs all the sweeter through the fact that he had satisfaction in wearing down the man who has been beating his face and body as he would a snare drum.

The one encouraging thing that has made it easier for the Dane to take these beatings is the fact that along about ten rounds or so he could feel the fighter getting weaker, he found that he could push them away easier and that he could land more often and then it was that the champion, spurred on by the chance of victory, would come all the faster.

In most of these cases the fight has been with men who have boasted that they would find the weak spot in the Dane's make up and win by continually punching it; they have argued that the champion could not hit them and that it would be impossible for him to land a knock-out blow, but none have pressed the claim that they could out last him.

Hyland's Ancestors

Now comes a sturdy little fellow, three inches shorter than the Dane, built from the bottom of his feet to the crown of his head for lasting strength and the offspring of people of the soil whose ancestors have always been the sturdy, hard working stock of wonderful strength whose labors in the mines have made them men of great lasting powers, who says he will be able to not only out-fight the champion but will out-last him.

How will Nelson feel if he should in this case be the one to administer the punishment and show to the best advantage in the early rounds of the contest but have the sturdy little Cornishman keep coming in for more until, instead of the opponent weakening, he should start to feel the wear and tear himself?

It would be a new thing for Nelson and might have the effect of taking the heart out of him. Hyland has made up his mind that he is a stronger and better built fighter for lasting powers and he feels very confident that he will be the stronger as the battle goes on and although a very modest little fellow, his every action denotes confidence.

Both Boxers Rest Today

At the training camps of the fighters yesterday both put in a good hard day's labor and today each will round off with a test of their condition, after which the drying out and resting will be indulged in. Hyland has been in active training for the past month and some of the wise boys of the ring game have suggested that it might just be possible that he has over trained. Hyland and his manager scoff this idea, however, by pointing to the way the little fellow has been held up in his flesh and when he works in the gymnasium they point to the wonderful lasting power he displays as a proof positive that he is anything but over-taxed in the matter of fine condition. Hyland weighed 185 pounds yesterday and at this figure he will go to bed tomorrow night. His trainers figure he will worry and dry the remaining two pounds off and will weigh in at exactly the required 133 pounds. Nelson can drop to weight with the greatest ease and unless something unforseen happens he will enter the ring fit for the fight of his life.

Kaufman-Johnson Battle

Two clubs in San Francisco are dickering for the services of Jack Johnson and Al Kaufman, Jimmy Coffroth and Charlie Lercari being the contenders for the match to be held some time during the months of July or August. If Lercari lands the match he will have to handle it in July, as that is the month that he has the permit for. Coffroth can handle it any day that he feels like using and to the man up a tree it looks as if the Colma promoter will be the man to get the contest.

Johnson has said that he wants $10,000, win, lose or draw, and it may be that he will get it, although this depends entirely on how much Billy Delaney will let Kaufman fight for. Delaney wants the big fellow to get the chance with the champion, but he is not going to throw the man he has worked along so carefully with into the ring with the colored gent without first getting the chance to make some money, and no one can blame him. Delaney and Coffroth will meet this afternoon to talk matters over.

Willie Britt on Way Here

Willie Britt is on his way to the Coast and will be here tomorrow night unless something happens to the flyer that is bringing him here. Willie comes to make the match between Ketchel and Papke and while here he will second Battling Nelson in his contest. Nelson thinks a good deal of the judgment of Willie and it will be considered a valuable asset in his fighting stock to have the smokerino kid with him. Willie and Coffroth will immediately get busy on the Ketchel-Papke match and articles for the contest should be signed in a very short time. Britt and Coffroth understand one another perfectly and Willie would be more inclined to listen to the arguments of the out of town promoter than he would to any other. Willie has done so well by Ketchel that the fighter will be satisfied with any arrangements he makes.

Orphans Now Playing Fine Baseball

Pfyl's Name Pronounced 'Feel,' Not 'File,' or 'Piffle'

Many of the fans are of the opinion that the San Francisco team is outclassed, but they are mistaken. The Orphans are now playing good ball and will keep all the teams hustling to beat them. They have been hitting the horsehide regularly and play a fine fielding game.

* * *

Much fault was found with Umpire Ehret yesterday and it did seem that he was having an off-day, something that every umpire is entitled to once in a while. Both sides had kicks to make, but no one made trouble enough to get chased out of the game. Shay was very sore at the "umps" for calling a third strike on him the first time up, but he subsided after calling attention to the fact that he was Shay. That information didn't [illegible] Ehret.

* * *

Pfyl is pronounced "Feel," not "File" or "Piffle."

* * *

Miller made a hard try for Streib's short liner in the ninth, but could not reach it, turning a complete somersault in his anxiety to get it.

* * *

McLaughlin hit to left in the ninth and Streib easily scored from second on the hit, but Ehret called it a foul and then Mo went out advancing Gay to third. Everybody in the stand who could see the ball when it landed said it was fair and there would have been some dissatisfaction if the Orphans had not won the game.

ST. MARY'S WILL WIN MEET, 75 TO 47---RITTLER SANTA CLARA WILL WIN, 64 TO 58---GLARNER

Doping up track meets is no new thing in collegiate athletics. It is usually conceded that individual effort in track work leaves no doubt for the dopester. He can easily discover what the athlete is capable of doing and his way for comparison is clear.

It is different with boxing, baseball and football in this way. Chance, which plays so conspicuous a part in these sports, is practically absent when the question comes to a foot race or a high jump.

Hence one finds St. Mary's and Santa Clara doping up to a nicety the outcome of next Saturday's struggle. Otto Rittler, coach for St. Mary's, is willing to go on record with this: "St. Mary's will defeat Santa Clara by 75 to 47." Andrew Glarner, trainer for Santa Clara, does not see matters that way. He says: "The score Saturday will be 64 to 58, Santa Clara winning."

Fans generally will watch with interest the outcome of these varying forecasts.

Meanwhile both places are working hard. St. Mary's boys, who will not compete are getting their lungs ready for exercise of a vociferous nature. The Santa Clara boys ave quit training and are waiting on t eir oars for the pistol crack.

Immense inter t in the struggle has piled up, and in ture it is not unlikely that track athle s will be the major competitive sport between the two colleges, an ominou now held by baseball. So many thletes are concerned when the questior s track that this sport must come to th fore.

St Vincent's B d, which will lead St. Mary's rooters, ll arrive in Oakland Friday. A concer will be given by these youngsters at St ary's on that evening.

Twirler Graney Coaches In Tough Luck In Crackerjack Contest

Graney is certainly in tough luck. The harder he coached on the third base line for the Beavers the better the Seals played. His war whoops and frantic yells, instead of disconcerting the opponents, only had a tendency to ginger them up, and the Mohlerites did ginger up enough to nose out a victory after one of the greatest diamond battles of the season. The game was exciting from the start to the finish. First, San Francisco scored, then Portland tied, the Seals tallied in the fifth and seventh and Johnson evened up matters with a three-bagger in the eighth. In the last half of the eighth Zeider brought his team to the front again and scored the winning run. As on Tuesday, the San Francisco third baseman was one of the big attractions. He made two of the runs, brought in another with a two-sacker, stole a base and picked a foul off the grandstand. Not only Zeider, but all the Seals performed in a creditable manner and pulled Browning out of tight places. J. Williams' great running catch of Speas' drive saved the game. Portland lost her chances of winning through poor base running.

'Chick' Wright to Play Here in Exhibition Game

Moyer beat Butler in their three-cushion tourney game at the Oakland billiard parlors last night by a score of 20 to 14. The game was played in fast time and was finished by Moyer in a burst of speed exceeding anything he has yet shown in the tournament. It was a tie game at the fifty-first inning, when Moyer broke away and averaged one for the final six points necessary to win.

Moyer's last three games fill to a large extent his natural promise. It was expected that he would fall down to some extent, this being his first tourney, and he did. But his recent games show that his future tourney work will make him a factor in any company.

Tonight Guest and Conners meet to play off their postponed game. These two play a fast and accurate game and it should be a good one to witness.

* * *

Chick Wright will be with us on next Tuesday evening. He will play an exhibition match with either R. B. Brunner or Joe Carney. Possibly with both.

It cannot be said of Chick that he is not honored in his own country. On the contrary he is overwhelmed with the attentions shown and will probably be glad when some of the new wears off.

OFFICIALS, IN PUBLIC SCHOOL MEET ON SATURDAY, NAMED

2000 Children Expected to Take Part

Fully 2000 children will take part in the public school field and track meet to be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, on the California State League grounds at Fifty-seventh and Grove streets. The schools which have sent entries are Harrison, Grant, Garfield, Franklin, Durant, Cole, Clawson, Tompkins, Swett, Prescott, Piedmont, Peralta, Washington and Lafayette.

The field day will be the biggest thing of its kind that has ever been attempted west of New York and unlike any other. The meet is intended for every pupil, whether athletically inclined or not and in the awarding of prizes attendance figures in the making of points. It is believed that it is only a matter of time when every city in California will follow in the footsteps of Oakland and conduct their meets on a similar plan. So enthusiastic are the officials of the Athletic League that next year they intend to have grounds of their own and for this purpose are fitting up Bushrod Park. Over a year ago the proposition of a competition between schools first came up, but it was not until this year that suitable grounds could be procured.

Dr. H. L. Dietz will referee the meet Saturday, G. H. Pfund will be chief starter and C. E. Hudspeth secretary. The officers of the league are J. F. Chandler, president; Dr. Dietz, vice-president; Hudspeth, secretary. Pfund is chairman of the games committee and is assisted by Dr. Dietz, F. J. Bock and R. J. Graham.

FRUITVALE'S BOXING SHOW WILL BE TOMORROW NIGHT

The way tickets are selling for the first boxing contest by the Fruitvale Athletic Club tomorrow night indications point to a record breaking crowd. Nor will the fans be disappointed, if the latest reports from the camps of the various boxers are correct. Ollie Cornett and Lew Taylor have dropped off training and will take it easy during the remainder of the time intervening up to the time of their ring battle. Both are in excellent condition. Frankie Edwards and George Leahy have also let down in their work and are now only waiting for the gong, when the question of supremacy between these two will be decided in a clashing six-round affair. Many are of the opinion that the bout will not go the limit. Several other matches which, it is believed, will be close, are scheduled.

Beavers Play With Ginger and Vim

Donlin, New York Giant Star, Praises Work of Zeider

By HERMAN F. BUDDE.

THE Portland players are a lively bunch from the word go. Whether in the field or on the bench they play the game for dear life and refuse to quit until the last man is out. The coaching of Graney on third is a sight in itself. The fans get more enjoyment watching him go through his antics than women do in gossiping over their teas. And, worthy fans, most of you have a faint idea how busy the tongue of the sweeter sex is kept during the social hour.

Well, Graney has them beat to a frazzle. His tongue never stops. It is on the perpetual motion order and emits shrieks and discords in proportion to the class of batting displayed by the Beavers. Yesterday was slugfest day for the ducks. They batted the leather all over the lot and you should have listened to the prattle of the Portland star twirler—the only man, it is said, who played in the big brush and never threw a strike over the plate, for after five balls crossed the platter in succession, Napoleon Lajoie took him out of the box and kept him on the bench for a month.

* * *

For taking exception to the decisions of Umpire McGreevy, Berry and Armbruster were fined $5 apiece. The Portland catcher was also put out of the game.

* * *

Of all the stops of the week's series thus far Breen's tips the climax. J. Williams corked out a rip snorting grass cutter close to the second bag. The Portland infielder grabbed it on the run one-handed and, without looking, whizzed it to the first base while still on full speed.

* * *

Squeeze plays, like most everything else, are of the good, bad and indifferent order. Once yesterday it was the means of a run and on another occasion it was responsible for a double play. In the second inning with Berry on third and McArdle at the plate the signal was given for the play. Berry came tearing in home but instead of grounding McArdle popped to the catcher and, of course, the Seal backstop was an easy out at third.

The locals will be treated to three games in succession on Sunday and Monday, Decoration day. Games will be played at Freeman's at 10:10 a. m. and on Tuesday Oakland and Sacramento will open up a series.

Jack Burns of Salinas To Box Terry Mustain

KANSAS CITY, May 27.—Packey McFarland last night won a ten-round fight with Harry Trendall of St. Louis. The bout was devoid of spectacular features, McFarland forcing the fighting most of the time and his opponent covering up.

* * *

VALLEJO, May 27.—The scheduled twenty-round fight between Joe Willis of this city and Jack Burns of Salinas, which was to have taken place at Coalinga, in Fresno county, on Saturday, has been declared off, as Willis has to have an operation performed on his eyes for granulated eyelids. Terry Mustain has been signed in his place to meet Burns.

* * *

DES MOINES, Ia., May 27.—Articles were signed yesterday for a finish wrestling match between Champion Frank Gotch and Tom Jenkins, wrestling instructor at West Point, to take place at Des Moines, June 12. It will be the fifth bout between the champion and Jenkins, each having won two.

Fresno 5, Oakland 2.

FRESNO, May 27.—Bloomfield was chased to the woods on the small end of a 5 to 2 score. The Tigers had little respect for his shoots and pounded him all over the lot. To liven up matters Davis and Macdonough landed on him for home runs over the left field fence.

The game was full of sensational fielding, there being in all five double plays, the record of the season. A monster week day crowd was in attendance.

Stockton had a good chance to score in the third with Farrell perched on third as the result of his long hit to left and Sandow Mertes at the bat. The sight of Mertes did not worry Gray in the least and he struck the demon out.

* * *

Ches Campbell, Oakland's speedy second baseman, was a spectator. He turned his ankle during the Sunday morning game and now it is swollen to twice its normal size. Cy Russell went to Fresno with the Invaders to take Campbell's place. This is the first time in Campbell's seven years of baseball that he has been out of the game on account of an injury.

* * *

Spencer did not play yesterday because of an injury and McLaughlin took his place in center, Perlin going to right. Spencer is an unlucky player and has been laid up a good part of the time this season. He is missed, too, for he has been batting fine and is always dangerous on account of his speed.

Frambes made what looked like a foolish attempt to steal home in the fifth and he was put out a city block. There were two out at the time and Farrell was up.

San Jose 9, Santa Cruz 1.

SAN JOSE, May 27.—Lefty Hopkins had a hard time of it yesterday in the first game of the series with San Jose. He was batted out of the box, the prune pickers hitting him for eight runs in five innings, four runs being made in the third frame on five hits. Mosher was substituted and pitched good ball but it was too late.

VERNONS TO PLAY OUTLAWS.

The Vernons, formerly the second team of the The Redwood Athletic Club, have reorganized and are ready to receive challenges from any 13-14-year-old teams around the bay, Berkeley or Alameda teams preferred. The Vernons will play the Fruitvale Outlaws Sunday and as the teams are equally matched a good game is expected. The line-up of the Vernons is as follows:

F. Waldeur, first base; R. Osequeda, pitcher; M. Baglini, catcher; W. Cody, second base; L. Anderson, shortstop; H. Henalas third base; R. Waldeur, left field; H. Murray, center field; H. Wolff, right field; S. McClellan, substitute. Address all games to R. Waldeur, 1031 Bassett street, Fruitvale.

CADETS BEAT SUNSET TEAM.

The Cadets of Company N, Oakland, defeated the fast Sunset team last Sunday in a lively twelve inning game. The Sunsets showed great form and held the score down to 8 to 7. The heavy hitting of Company N was responsible for the victory and some of the men who secured these were Captain Cronin, a home run; Dan Cronin, two bagger; Hogan three bagger and two bagger; J. Dolin, two singles; G. Lloyd two singles. Batteries, Flynn, Hogan, S. Cronin, G. Lloyd.

Track Men of Stanford Winner of Meet in Utah

PROVO, Utah, May 27.—The Stanford University athletes, on their way to Chicago to take part in the western conference meet, defeated the Brigham Young University team yesterday afternoon in an exciting contest. The score was: Stanford 69 1-5, Brigham Young University 59½.

SEATTLE, May 27.—The race between the crews of the University of Washington and Stanford University will be rowed on Lake Washington next Saturday morning, beginning at 10:30. The course is three miles and the prize is the championship of the Pacific coast.

Rugby Football Favored

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—The Board of Education yesterday afternoon decided that all interscholastic schools of Los Angeles shall play the Rugby game next fall instead of the American game.

The Southern California schools that have adopted Rugby this season are the Los Angeles Polytechnic and high schools, Pomona, Riverside, Redlands, Colton and San Bernardino high schools and Harvard military academy of Los Angeles.

Los Angeles 5 Oakland 0

LOS ANGELES, May 27.—Christian pitched against Los Angeles yesterday, but he was not effective—no, not by a long shot. Seven of the locals walked, seven hit safely and five of them tallied, two in the initial inning and three in the fifth.

The whole show was Tozer. Besides twirling wonderful ball, only allowing three hits and they going to Duffey Lewis, La Longe and Christian, he stopped a sizzling hot drive with his bare hand.

Double plays—Delmas to Howard to Dillon, Delmas to Dillon, McKay to Cameron. Hit by pitched ball—Smith. Time of game—1 hour and 40 minutes. Umpire—McCarthy.

The game yesterday was of the variety that is a real treat to the fan. There was just enough scientific and off-hand playing to keep the interest up to the very last. At no period of the struggle was the result certain one way or the other. Even in the ninth frame Portland had several men on bases but heady fielding prevented scoring.

* * *

Mike Donlin, one of the mightiest ball players in the country and at present engaged in the theatrical profession, was the cynosure of all eyes yesterday at Recreation. The New York Giant enjoyed the game to the full and said the work of Zeider was nothing short of sensational. With his wife, Mabel Hite, Mike sat in the grand stand watching Rollie go through his stunts. Between plays Donlin had a busy time of it telling Cal Ewing, Jack Gleason and other baseball celebrities all about it — the stage.

By losing yesterday Portland dropped in fourth place and Sacramento moved up a peg.

Sacramento 3, Vernon 0.

SACRAMENTO, May 27.—Vernon was shut out yesterday while the three runs of the Senators resulted from errors. Brown's three base hit to left field was the feature of the game. An ineffectual batting rally was started by the Villagers in the ninth, three hits were made off Brown, but he wiggled through the inning without allowing a run. The game was devoid of any marvelous playing on either side.

Sir Martin vs. Minoru

NEW YORK, May 27.—John E. Madden, the breeder of the race horse Sir Martin, whose chances of winning the English Derby yesterday were nullified by his fall, suggested last night that Louis Winans, the horse's present owner, arrange a match race with Minoru, the winner of the Derby. He declared his belief that Sir Martin, when not interfered with by other horse and given an equal chance with Minoru, would defeat the King's horse.

The bases on balls Harkness allowed were costly. Five men were walked and of these three made runs.

ORDER FOR PERSONS INTERESTED TO SHOW CAUSE WHY SALE OF REAL ESTATE SHOULD NOT BE MADE.

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Alameda.

In the matter of the estate of John Pforr, Jr., deceased. No. 12466. Dept. No. 4.

Order for persons interested to show cause why sale of real estate should not be made.

Max Walzman, executor of the will of John Pforr, Jr., deceased, having on the 28th day of April, 1909, presented to the Superior Court, and filed with the clerk thereof, his petition in due form, verified by his oath, praying for an order authorizing him to sell all the property real and personal, belonging to the estate of said deceased, for the purposes therein fully stated and set forth; and

It appearing to the Court that it is for the best interests of the estate and those interested therein, that said property should be sold; and

It further appearing that it would benefit the estate to sell the hereinafter described real property at private sale, in that the value thereof is small and the expenses of a public sale would be large,

It is therefore ordered that all persons interested in the estate appear before the court on Friday, the 28th day of May, 1909, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Courtroom of Department Four (4) of said Court, in the Court House of the County of Alameda at the City of Oakland to show cause why an order should not be granted to said executor to sell said personal property at any regular session of "The Stock and Bond Exchange" at the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, to the highest and best bidder therefor, and said real estate hereinafter described, at private sale after due notice according to law, to the highest bidder, subject to confirmation.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be published once a week for four (4) successive weeks in Oakland Tribune, a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in the County of Alameda, State of California.

The following is a description of the personal property, to-wit:

Ten one thousand dollar bonds of the United Railroads of San Francisco.

The following is a description of the real estate, being situate in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, and bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Commencing at a point on the northwesterly line of Lippard avenue, distant thereon one hundred (100) feet southwesterly from the southwesterly line of Berkshire street; running thence southwesterly along the northwesterly line of Lippard avenue twenty-five (25) feet, thence at a right angle northwesterly one hundred (100) feet, thence at a right angle northeasterly twenty-five (25) feet and thence at right angle southeasterly one hundred (100) feet to the northwesterly line of Lippard avenue and the point of commencement.

Being lot thirty-two (32) in block four (4), Mission and Thirtieth Street Extension Homestead Union, as designated on a map of blocks two, three and four of the Mission and Thirtieth Street Extension Homestead Union, recorded on the 8th day of October 1866, in the office of the county recorder of the City and County of San Francisco in Book 1 of Maps, Page 263.

Dated April 28th, 1909.

ORDINANCE NO.----

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE REMOVAL OF BUILDINGS ON, OVER OR THROUGH PUBLIC STREETS AND HIGHWAYS.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda do ordain as follows:

Section 1. No person, firm or corporation shall move, or cause to be moved, any building in the County of Alameda, outside of the corporate limits of incorporated municipalities, on, over, or through any public street or highway therein, except after having first complied with the provisions hereof.

Sec. 2. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to remove or cause to be removed any building shall first obtain the written assent to such removal from persons owning a majority of front feet of lots in the same block on the same street in which it is proposed to locate such building to be removed, and also of persons owning a majority of front feet opposite the proposed location and within 150 feet of the same; provided, however, that the foregoing provisions shall not apply to any person removing a building upon his own premises and not going upon the premises of any other person, or upon any street, alley, or other public place in making such removal; and provided, further, that in case the consent hereinbefore provided for cannot be obtained, then such removal may be made after consent obtained from the Board of Supervisors.

Sec. 3. No person, firm or corporation shall move or cause to be moved, on, over or through any public street or highway in said County of Alameda, outside of the corporate limits of incorporated municipalities, any building, without first obtaining from the Board of Supervisors a permit in writing so to do. Such permit shall be issued only upon presentation of the written assent to the removal of such building as provided for in Section 2 of this ordinance, and shall not be issued until after the person, firm or corporation so applying therefor shall have first delivered to the Board of Supervisors a bond, running to the County of Alameda, in the sum of $500, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, approved by the Board of Supervisors and District Attorney, which bond shall be conditioned that the party so desiring to move buildings in said County of Alameda, outside of the corporate limits of incorporated municipalities, will strictly comply with all the conditions and requirements of this ordinance and of any ordinance hereafter passed regulating housemoving, and of any order, rule or regulation concerning housemoving that may hereafter be passed by the Board of Supervisors, and that said party will pay any and all damages which may result by reason of any housemoving in the County of Alameda, outside of the corporate limits of incorporated municipalities, by said party, his agents, employes or workmen, to any fence, tree, pavement, streets, sidewalks, horse car cable, electric or steam railroad line or to any telegraph pole or wire belonging to the County of Alameda, and conditioned further that said party, said principal, will save, indemnify and keep harmless the County of Alameda against all liabilities, judgments, costs and expenses which may in any wise accrue against said county in consequence of the granting of such permit. Any such bond filed by any person, firm or corporation shall operate as a bond for the purposes required by this ordinance for the term of one year from the date of filing thereof, in so far that no other or additional bond need be given by such party for the removal of houses in said county during the said period of one year, and at the expiration of said year a new bond shall be required to be filed by such party before the issuance to such party of any permits hereunder.

Such permit shall specify the character of the building to be moved, the place from which and to which said building is to be moved, and the streets on, over or through which such removal may be made, and said building shall not be moved on, over or through any other streets, except those named in said permit. Said permit shall not be issued until after payment of the sum of ten dollars therefor to the Tax Collector of the County of Alameda.

Sec. 4. All removals made under such permits shall be done in a careful manner, and shall be prosecuted with diligence, and shall be under the superintendence and control, and to the satisfaction and approval of the Road Commissioner of the district in which such removal shall be made.

Sec. 5. No person, firm or corporation owning or having charge of the removal of any building through the public streets shall permit said building to be or stand on any street, lane, alley or public grounds within the limits of one block for a longer period than twenty-four hours.

Sec. 6. No person, firm or corporation owning or having charge of the removal of any building through the public streets or highways shall allow or cause the injury of any street, sidewalk, curb, tree, fence or private or public property by reason of such removal.

Sec. 7. No person, firm or corporation owning or having charge of the removal of any building shall permit the same to obstruct any horse car, cable road or electric road in operation, nor the line of any steam railroad, except between the hours of 2:30 A. M. and 5 A. M.

Sec. 8. When the cutting or temporary removal of any pole or poles or wire or wires of any public or private telegraph, telephone, electric light, street railway or railways or any other wire passing along or over any street, lane or alley, becomes necessary for the removal of any building, the person in charge of such removal, at least twelve hours in advance of reaching the same, shall notify the person having charge of and control over such wire or wires, pole or poles, and the person so notified shall cause such wires or poles to be promptly cut or removed and replaced. Provided, however, that in every case in which the cutting of the wires of the County of Alameda may be necessary, the Road Commissioner of the district in which such wires are located shall be notified, and he shall have the wires cut and replaced, the person or persons having charge of the removal of the buildings paying the entire cost and expense of the cutting, removal and replacing of such wires of the County of Alameda.

Sec. 9. Every person violating any provision of this ordinance is guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars; and in case such fine be not paid then by imprisonment at the rate of one day for every two dollars of the fine so imposed.

Sec. 10. The Board of Supervisors may at any time, for such cause as they, or a majority of them, upon investigation may deem sufficient, revoke any permission or license granted under this ordinance; and it is specially ordained and declared that all such permits and licenses granted in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, although granted for the nominal term of one year, are held at the pleasure of said Board of Supervisors.

Sec. 11. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force on and after fifteen days after its passage.

Passed and adopted by the following vote, May 24, 1909.

Ayes—Supervisors Mullins, Bridge, Foss and Chairman Horner—4.

Absent—Supervisor Kelley—1.

Ties Weight About Her Waist and Then Plunges Into Surf

MRS. DELIA HINZ.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. — The theory that Mrs. Delia Heinz, a seamstress who, at the time of her disappearance a few days ago was living at 864 Sixty-first street, Oakland, ended her own life by plunging in the surf is borne out by a stocking filled with sand, which was found tied around the dead woman's waist.

The body was discovered yesterday floating in the surf near the Cliff House. According to Mrs. M. W. Delaney of 1625 Todd street, Berkeley, a niece of the dead woman, Mrs. Heinz, who was the widow of Jacob Heinz, formerly business agent of the Barbers' Benevolent Association of San Francisco, underwent a serious operation several weeks ago and was spending a few days near the beach in an effort to recover her health.

Suffered From Operation

The police were mystified by the fact that the body, while fully dressed in other particulars, was not attired in a waist, but in a kimono. The detectives were inclined to believe that the woman, either ill or insane, had been confined in a house near the beach under guard, and escaping from her attendants had thrown herself into the water. It was explained by Mrs. Delaney that Mrs. Heinz had never been able to wear corsets since her operation and that she always had dressed in a kimono or some other garment in lieu of a waist, wearing a coat or jacket to hide this fact.

Mrs. Heinz, who had lived with her sister, Mrs. T. Little, at 864 Sixty-first street, Oakland, since the death of her husband in 1905, came to San Francisco a few days ago to visit Mrs. Michael Ryan at 213 Fourteenth street. The women went to the beach Tuesday afternoon and after strolling on the sand a few hours, Mrs. Ryan announced that they must be starting home for dinner. Mrs. Heinz begged to be allowed to remain at the beach until Mrs. Ryan had gone home, prepared dinner and returned, and Mrs. Ryan granted the sick woman's request. When she returned, however, Mrs. Heinz could not be found, and Mrs. Little was notified of the disappearance.

On Saturday evening, May 29, Oakland Circle will elect delegates to the district convention and also officers for the ensuing term. Other questions of importance will be brought before the circle on that evening and a large attendance is necessary.

Clevish, cruelty; Odella Crawford against Albert Crawford, desertion; Alfred W. Priestley against Susan J. Priestley, desertion. Mrs. Priestley is the daughter of Dr. W. A. M. Dunbar, a veterinarian of Napa. She prefers to live with her mother rather than her husband.

SALES OF STOCK IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, May 27.—There were more stocks which sold at unchanged prices from those of yesterday at the opening today than those that advanced or declined. The changes were small and maintained. Erie rose ⅜ and the first preferred 1. Great Northern Ore Certificates declined ¾.

Buying orders became more numerous but there was no demand of consequence for important stocks outside of Reading, which rose to 155. Some of the railroad equipment stocks were in demand and a few of the low priced stocks also showed decided firmness. National Lead preferred advanced 1¼, Delaware and Hudson 1¼, and Wabash preferred, Western Maryland and American Car and Foundry 1. National Railway of Mexico declined 1¼.

St. Louis Southwestern preferred was marked up 1¾, Wabash preferred and Reading 1¼, American Car preferred, Erie and General Electric 1. St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred declined 1.

Metal stocks absorbed the bulk of the limited dealings. National Lead preferred improved 3½, Republic Steel and Iron and Bethlehem Steel preferred 1¾, the common 1, and United States Steel ⅜ to 61¾, a new record price. Wabash rose 1, the preferred 2⅜, and Sloss-Sheffield Steel 2¼.

Intense dullness prevailed but the market maintained the slight gains of the morning. United States Steel touched 61. Third Avenue got up 1¾.

The market closed irregular. Missouri Pacific followed the movement in the Goulds with a rise of 1⅜. Republic Steel preferred rose 3¼ in all. Prices generally were shaded a fraction but hardened again. Lackawanna sold at a decline of 10.

Bonds were firm.

The following quotations of prices of stocks on the New York Stock Exchange are from J. C. Wilson, member of the New York Stock Exchange, with offices in the Mills building, Montgomery and Bush streets:

WHEAT MARKET

SAN FRANCISCO WHEAT.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—Wheat—Firm; no trading. Cash $2.10@2.15.

Barley—Firm. May, $.85 bid, $1.77½ asked; December, $1.39¼; cash, $1.65@1.70.

Corn—Firm. Large yellow, $1.70@1.75.

PORTLAND, May 27.—Wheat, track prices—Club, $1.18@1.20; choice milling bluestem, $1.27½@1.30; Turkey red, $1.18; red Russian, $1.15; valley, $1.17.

CHICAGO, May 27.—Wheat was irregular during the early trading today, the May delivery being strong and the more distant deliveries inclined to be weak. Shorts were again fairly active bidders for the May option, but the deferred futures were under considerable selling pressure owing to favorable weather conditions for the new crop in this country. The market, however, was dominated to a great extent by the congestion existing in May delivery. Prices at the opening were ⅛@¼c lower to ⅝c higher, May being at $1.32¾ and July at $1.17⅝@1.17¾. Later May advanced to $1.33 but July sold off to $1.17.

The market was heavy nearly all day and prices declined still further. The close was dull and weak with May off ¼c at $1.32 and July was down ⅝@¾c at $1.16⅝@1.16¾.

Local receipts of corn were again liberal and as a result prices declined materially early in the day. Selling was general and was led by prominent houses. July, which opened at ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c lower at 70⅛@70⅜c, declined to 69⅞c.

During the last half of the day the market slumped severely. The close was weak, with July ⅝c lower at 69½@69⅝c.

Oats were weak on liberal realizing sales, based on increasing stocks, a slow cash demand and favorable weather conditions for the new crop. July was especially weak and sold off to 53⅜@53½c after opening ⅜@½c lower.

Provisions were quiet and steady. Prices at the start were 2½c higher to 2½c lower.

The closing quotations were as follow:

Wheat—May, $1.32; July, $1.16⅝@1.16¾; September, $1.08⅞@1.09; December, $1.06⅝.

Corn—May, 76c; July, 69⅝@69¾c; September, 67⅝c; December, 57⅝c.

NORTHWESTERN CROPS IN GOOD CONDITION

PORTLAND, Or., May 27.—Special dispatches from various points in the Inland Empire state that crop conditions are the best at this season for more than a decade. The ground in the grain belts is soaked to a depth varying from three inches to one and a half feet, while more than a week of warm sunshine with light showers has furnished ideal growing weather. The grain is stooling better than for years, due largely to the cool spring.

In Northern Idaho the acreage this year is fully thirty per cent larger than in 1908.

In Eastern Washington and Northeastern Oregon the increase over last year is from ten to twenty-five per cent, much summer fallow being seeded this spring. Practically no reseeding was necessitated this spring through freezing out. Eastern Oregon conditions are equally favorable, weather conditions having been all that could be desired.

SAILOR CLAIMS HE WAS DRUGGED

Unable to Account for Leaving Training Ship, C. Riley Found With Revolver

FRUITVALE, May 27.—After having eluded the authorities for two days since deserting from the United States training ship Pensacola, Clarence Riley, aged 19 years, was captured by Constable William C. Allen yesterday and placed in detinue. The youth was hiding under a bridge when apprehended by Allen and had in his possession an ugly looking revolver.

The youth stated he could not explain why he left the training ship and says that he was not acting in his right mind when he disposed of his ship's clothes, purchased a business suit and the revolver. He hints he may have been doped.

LANDERS STEVENS JOINS BROADWAY COMPANY

News has just leaked out of one of the greatest local theatrical sensations of the year. Landers Stevens and Miss Georgie Cooper, who have been great favorites at Ye Liberty theater for the past three years, have just signed a contract with Manager Guy Smith and will make their first appearance at the Broadway, formerly the old Novelty, on June 14.

Just how Smith succeeded in inducing the high priced stars to leave the Ye Liberty is not being told by the Broadway manager, but the coup is considered one of the best of the season. Stevens won a high place in the hearts of the local theater going public ever since the days he played in the Dewey Theater and is undoubtedly the most popular actor who has ever come to Oakland. Miss Cooper, the wife of Stevens, is also well known and well liked. She will play ingenue parts, the same as she did in the Bishop company.

Stevens will be leading man at the Broadway, playing opposite to Miss Priscilla Knowles.

Manager Smith has recently added Al Dickinson, the comedian, Edgar K. Sinclaire and others to his company.

NEW YORK, May 27.—With his motor car securely strapped to the upper deck of the White Star Line steamship Adriatic, F. J. Lande said that he would not commence to spend the money he had made since his arrival in this country twenty-five years ago until he started to tour Europe in his motor car. He said he preferred the steerage passage for himself and wife at $70 to the first-class passage for which the steamship company demanded $[illegible]00.

ALAMEDA COUNTY IS BEST OF THEM ALL

BERKELEY, May 27.—Frank L. Belvel, secretary of the Berkeley Real Estate Exchange, returned last night from a four months' visit to Des Moines, Iowa, where his lengthened stay has been followed by a critical condition in the health of his father. Belvel reports that there is much interest in the middle west over the Japanese question and the attitude of the people of California towards the little "brown brother." He says the people of Iowa sympathize with the west in its endeavors to prevent misunderstanding of a delicate issue.

"I found no place better than California and no towns more prosperous than Berkeley and Oakland," said Belvel. "The middle west and the Mississippi valley are undergoing a period of sluggish times, but they are confident that the worst has been passed and that the coming fall will be prosperous. The farmer is in position to demand high prices for his products and I look for a big immigration to this State as soon as the eastern crops are harvested. Berkeley is the most attractive place I have seen to live in and take it as a whole, Alameda county has no peer anywhere in the east."
